SIX PERSONS MURDERED

OLYMPIC IS DAMAGED BADLY

Three Thousand Passengers in Panic When Vessel Is Rammed by Hawke

Big Ship Limp Into Southampton After She Is Floated From Mud Bank

COWES, England, Sept. 20.—The White Star Line steamer Olympic, the biggest passenger vessel in service, was in collision with the British protected cruiser Hawke near Osborne bay on the north side of the Isle of Wight this afternoon and was so badly damaged that her captain, E. J. Smith, beached her on a mud bank in the Cowes roadstead. Later she was released and started back for Southampton.

Captain Smith immediately after the accident signaled for assistance to Portsmouth, and tugs went promptly to the scene. At the same time assurance was given that the passengers were in no danger.

The Hawke was damaged, but remained by the steamer until the Olympic, cleared from the mud bank, set out on her return to Southampton. The Hawke then started southward under her own steam. The cruiser's bows were crumpled by the impact, her plates torn to the water line.

BIG PASSENGER LIST.

The Olympic sailed from Southampton at 11:25 o'clock bound for New York by way of Cherbourg and Queenstown. She sailed with the largest list of first-class passengers that ever crossed the Atlantic in one ship. The first cabin passengers numbered 742, twenty-four more than her best previous record. Among them were between twenty and thirty American millionaires and something like $250,000 had been paid in passage money. All told there were nearly 3000 persons on board.

In the collision the Olympic was struck on the starboard quarter and a hole was made in the hull. When the vessels separated after the impact it was seen that the Olympic was crippled and Captain Smith immediately ordered her beached.

HARVESTER 'TRUST' TO SUBMIT

Government Will Permit the Company to Readjust Its Organization

Officials Said to Be Willing to Get Inside the Sherman Law

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—That the government is ready to permit the International Harvester Company to readjust its organization to conform to recent interpretations of the Sherman law became known here today. Pending the result of conferences between Attorney General Wickersham and attorneys for the company the threatened dissolution suit is being delayed.

Negotiations looking to an understanding between the government and the company, which were begun in Washington last summer by Edgar A. Bancroft, general counsel for the harvester company, later were continued at Cedarhurst, L. I., where Attorney General Wickersham has been spending the summer. It is said it will be necessary for Bancroft to refer the question of reorganization to the company's board of directors.

Financial circles recently have heard persistent reports that the government was ready to bring an anti-trust suit against the company. Some papers necessary for court proceedings were prepared.

COMPANY WILLING.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—George W. Perkins, chairman of the finance committee of the International Harvester Company, and Edgar A. Bancroft, general counsel for the company, met here today for the conference on the affairs of the corporation and its relations with the government.

Perkins said, regarding the statement from Washington that the government was ready to allow the company to readjust itself to conform to recent interpretations of the anti-trust law, that after a talk with Bancroft a statement might be issued. An official of the company said, concerning the latest development in Washington:

OAKLAND POSTAL BANK OPENS WOMAN IS THE FIRST DEPOSITOR

At noon today the number of depositors had increased to ninety two, the total amount of deposits being $3680, an average of $40 for each depositor.

The Oakland branch of the United States Postal Bank was opened in this city this morning under the supervision of Postmaster Paul Schafer. Mrs. Josephine Benengstrom of 1369 Twelfth street being the first depositor. Mrs. Benengstrom, with a man identified by an acquaintance as Frank French, were in line when the doors of the bank were opened.

Mrs. Benengstrom, the first arrival, later stated that French had offered her $150 to allow him to take her place in the line and be the first to make a deposit under the new system. The woman declared, however, that she had declined the offer, remarking that she had secured the place and was not going to allow any other person to take possession of it.

The officers in charge of the system here informed the representative of THE TRIBUNE that no person connected with the postoffice department is permitted to disclose the name of any depositor or give any information regarding the amount of the deposit or any other matter connected with the transaction. Accordingly, they refused to give the name of the second depositor. It was ascertained, however, from French that he had deposited $100 and Mrs. Benengstrom stated that she had entered $3, making the total deposits for the first few minutes $103.

FEARFUL CRIME IS BARED

Bodies of Victims Discovered in Adjoining Houses at Colorado Springs

Heads Battered and Cut Open by Fiend More Than Week Ago

COLORADO SPRINGS, Sept. 20.—With their heads battered and cut open, six persons were found murdered here today in adjoining houses.

The dead are:

MRS. ALICE MAY BURNHAM, her 6-year-old daughter and 3-year-old son.

HENRY WAYNE.

BLANCHE WAYNE.

The 1-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne.

The bodies were all badly decomposed, leading the authorities to believe that the crime was committed more than a week ago.

A. J. Burnham, who is a cook at the Modern Woodmen Sanitarium, was at once sought by the police, although there is nothing to connect him with the crime. He was found at the sanitarium and brought to this city. He stoutly denies any knowledge of the crime.

Explosion Narrowly Averted in Berkeley

Fire Department Puts Out Blaze That Might Have Resulted Disastrously.

BERKELEY, Sept. 20.—The explosion of a car of road oil belonging to the Ransome-Crummey Construction Company at Dwight way and California street was prevented by the fire department at 1:20 o'clock this morning, when the firemen extinguished a blaze which was consuming an oil covered hose connected with the tank car.

The hose was pulled clear of the car by motor truck No. 3 and a chemical engine extinguished the fire, which, according to the firemen, would soon have caused the tank, containing 4500 gallons of oil, to explode. The fire was caused by a spark from apparatus used in heating the oil in the tank, setting fire to the oil-soaked hose.

Judge Says Wife Has Right to Scold Hubby

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 20.—"A wife has a right to scold her husband," Circuit Judge Thomas declared in refusing to grant a divorce to Glenn C. Burnham from his wife, Ida Burnham.

"There is no such thing as a perfect wife," Judge Thomas said. "A wife has a right to scold her husband if he gives her provocation. This husband took his wife to live with his folks. That was enough to make her peevish."

Kills Bandit Leader Who Attacks Camp

American Asks for Protection of Troops, Fearing Revenge of Followers.

GUADALAJARA, Mex., Sept. 20.—Allen McCoy, an American, and the manager of the Gold Standard Mining company of Philadelphia, shot and killed Juan Rosas, a bandit leader, who with several men attacked McCoy's camp in the Paraiso district of Jalisco.

McCoy has telegraphed to the American consul here that bandits in great numbers are preparing a second attack and that he considers the lives of himself, his wife and his son in great danger. Troops have been ordered to McCoy's camp.

Aviator Flies Twenty Minutes On Way to the Pacific Coast.

HORNELL, N. Y., Sept. 20.—James J. Ward, the aviator, resumed his coast to coast flight this morning, leaving Corning at 9:30 a. m. Twenty minutes later he was reported as having landed just west of Addison. Ward stopped at Addison on account of a defective water connection in his motor.

LYNCHERS FACE CHARGES OF MURDER

Two Members of Mob Indicted With Policemen

COATESVILLE, Pa., Sept. 20.—The most important development in the negro lynching case came today when warrants charging two members of the mob with murder and two policemen with involuntary manslaughter were issued by Judge Butler on the recommendation of the special grand jury. The jurors were discharged. They had been in session three weeks and it had been charged that they were reluctant to take action.

The men indicted are: Richard S. Tucker, an insurance agent, who was the first man to enter the hospital on Sunday night, August 12, when Zack Walker was dragged by a mob from his bed and burned to death.

Walter Markwood, mill hand, who it is claimed took only an obscure part in the lynching.

Policemen Stanley S. Howe, who was on guard at the hospital on the night of the lynching, and who, it is claimed, did not exert himself to prevent the crime.

Chief of Police C. E. Umstead, who it is claimed, failed to perform his duty properly.

The grand jury report censures the entire police force of Coatesville. Burgess, Shallcross and the Brandenburg fire company for failing to further the ends of justice. The citizens of Coatesville and vicinity having knowledge of the lynching are condemned because their attitude throughout the inquiry hampered the work of investigation.

TAKE BACK GIFTS

The Presents Given Miss Gagen Not Wanted by Him

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—Scorning the proffered baubles that he had bestowed upon Miss Irene Gagen at a time when she held a warm spot in his affections, George H. Dowling of the Hotel Metropole, Oakland, this morning refused to accept the gifts from the hands of Attorney R. Porter Ashe, the young woman's counsel, and they were dropped upon the floor in the courtroom of Police Judge Weller during the preliminary hearing of the defendant's case on a charge of felony embezzlement.

Dowling caused the arrest of Miss Gagen about ten days ago, alleging that she had broken her troth with him and had left Oakland for a summer resort, taking with her numerous articles of value he had given her, as well as money. He was greatly enraged over her absence for the reason that during their engagement he had at various times given her sums of money to be set aside toward a home when they should be married. Upon his asking for a loan of $50 from this amount, it developed, according to his story, that the girl no longer seemed to care for him, and she left town without telling him her destination. The amount of the alleged embezzlement mentioned in the complaint is $150.

The crisis came with such a suddenness this morning both sides were somewhat unprepared. Dowling objected at first. "I don't want those things; you can send them to my apartment." Accordingly they were gathered up and are now awaiting a claimant at the clerk's office. The articles that Dowling had given his fiancee consisted chiefly of silver toilet articles such as would be used upon a woman's dressing table. The case was put over until Friday morning, when it is likely a decision will be reached.

"PREPARE FOR SPANISH REVOLT FOLLOWED BY ARRESTS"

J. A. Britton Speaks to Convention of Gas Men

The keynote of the session of the convention this morning of the Pacific Coast Gas Association, which was founded by Secretary-Treasurer John A. Britton was "Get ready for the consideration of the value of your gas plants by coming local or state public utilities commissions for the acquisition of the same by municipal or other governing corporations, so that you may be given honest treatment at their hands."

The speaker said that every organization should know how much it cost to build and maintain it and what its honest value was so that it might be prepared to show facts in support of its idea of valuation.

He declared that the organization he was connected with had started out already in that direction, preparing for the day when the public utilities commissions would call the gas companies before them for the purpose of ascertaining how much they were worth when desired to be purchased and operated by the people themselves.

The second day's session of the convention of the Pacific Coast Gas Association opened this morning in Foresters' Hall with a large attendance.

The first feature was an article on "The Gas Meter," by W. M. Du Val. The treatment of the subject, among other things, contained a reference to the idea of preserving meters from destruction by means of rust and other means of deterioration. One of the means, the use of which was advocated, was aluminum. There was a short discussion of the paper which was brought to a close by Secretary Britton, who declared that the aluminum method had been appreciated when it was under consideration. He had given a great deal of attention to it for the reason that it promised to be successful.

ENTIRE ARMY IS UNDER ARMS AND DOING POLICE DUTY

Entire Army Is Under Arms and Doing Police Duty

MADRID, Sept. 20.—The government, acting under the decree of yesterday suspending the constitutional guarantees because of revolutionary activity, has ordered the arrest of workingmen's committees and political agitators in the disturbed districts. Three hundred persons were imprisoned in this city last night.

Among those arrested here was Senator Largo Caballero, general counsel for and vice-president of the General Union of Labor. His offices were closed.

The general strike in this city called for today was prevented by action of the authorities, and the railways are running as usual. Thirty thousand men in the building trades received an order this afternoon to strike.

TROOPS IN CONTROL.

The military is taking extreme precautions. The capital is quiet today. Do detachments of troops are stationed at the principal points of the city, at railway stations, public buildings, schools, convents and markets.

The military has taken into its keeping arms and munitions of every description which were on sale. Similar military measures have been taken in other cities. The whole army is under arms. The soldiers are doing police duty.

Arrests were made during the night in several provincial cities. At Barcelona 158 persons were apprehended and many were taken into custody at Bilbao, Seville, Valencia and Saragossa. Dispatches from these places report quiet today. There have been some disorders in small industrial centers.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS FIRED.

The revolutionaries apparently are still in possession of Jativa, towards which troops are marching from Valencia. At Jativa and Carcagente rioters set fire to Windows Are Shattered, but No Other Damage Is Sustained.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—A public school building on East One Hundred street was the target for a powerful Black Hand bomb early today. The explosion shattered the windows of the building, but did no other damage. It was said that some of the teachers in the school had incurred the hostility of families living in the neighborhood. A similar bomb was exploded about six weeks ago in a vacant lot adjoining a public school on East One Hundred and Fourth street.

Minister at Hayward Hands in Resignation

HAYWARD, Sept. 20.—Rev. J. W. Phelps, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of this place, has handed in his resignation to the church trustees to take effect the end of the week. Rev. Phelps has been the pastor of the local church for nearly two years. His place will be taken by the Rev. Irving E. Thompson, who will deliver a short sermon next Sunday.

Convict Oppenheimer Escapes New Trial

GAS MEN TALK OVER THEIR PROBLEMS

Experts Begin Work of Securing Value of Big Plant

In the matter of preserving meters from destruction by rust, he had conferred with the inventor of the idea. He knew that the inventor had been able, by means of his preparation of aluminum, to make even cloth impervious to water and moisture. He had sought to secure the formula of the preparation; he had worked with the inventor for six or eight months, but, without avail and shortly thereafter the inventor died and the secret died with him.

Secretary Britton opened the discussion of the paper read yesterday by Professor C. L. Cory, on ascertaining the value of gas plants for absorption by municipal or other public bodies.

INDEPENDENT IN VIEWS.

Britton said that Cory was not a corporation man and was not controlled by others when writing on such matters. The professor was simply independent in his views, because they were his own views. The State of California owed a great deal to Massachusetts for the originating of good laws, because many of the best laws on the statute books of other states had come from Massachusetts. Among these were Massachusetts' excellent law on life insurance. Another of the laws which had also originated with Massachusetts was the creation of a public utilities commission, similar enactments having since been made in other states. Such a law would eventually find its way to the statute books of California, and it was essential that all the gas companies of the state had to do to put their houses in order for the purpose of receiving proper consideration at the hands of such a commission. Cory's paper, the speaker said, showed that the gas companies of the state had to do to put their houses in order. He had no criticism to make of the paper in question, because it was thorough, fair, intelligent and practical throughout. The speaker's advice to the members of the association was to act upon the suggestion of the professor as contained in the method suggested of getting a knowledge of the cost of their structures and thus preparing themselves for the time when public utilities commission would seek to gain facts as regards the value of their plants.

He had conferred with Professor Cory on the subject, and as a consequence, his organization now had several hundred men employed in getting facts and figures as to the cost of everything that had entered into the construction of each of these concerns from north to the south, the intent being to make the showing as complete, correct and reliable as possible.

COMPLIMENTS LEACH.
He took occasion to compliment Superintendent F. A. Leach, of the Oakland Gas, Light & Heat Company for the inauguration of a system ascertaining the valuation of the local plant and the maintenance of the same—every detail of cost of accounting and engineering—during the last eight years.

By way of recognizing the completeness of the Cory paper, a motion was made that the secretary be authorized to have it printed and a copy forwarded to every member of the association.

PAPER BY BAURHYTE.
William Baurhyte of Los Angeles then read a paper by D. J. Young, styled "Technical Handling of Carbon By-products of the Oil-Gas Process."

One of the byproducts referred to in the paper was briquettes, which Baurhyte said was being used extensively in Los Angeles for fuel purposes.

TO GIVE OUTING.
An outing to be given by the Pacific Gas & Electric Company will consist of a trolley trip in special cars, starting from the Twenty-second street terminus of the Key Route, at the Key Route Inn, at 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning.

The cars for delegates will pass through Berkeley, Emeryville, Albany and Pullman, to Richmond, and through the courtesy of the Standard Oil Company, a visit will be made to its oil refineries. The return trip will be made to Piedmont park, via Oakland, where luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock, after which the members will be given ample opportunity to visit the art gallery of F. C. Havens, which is located in the park.

A special excursion will be given to ladies. Headquarters for ladies during the convention are maintained at the Key Route Inn, where a committee of Oakland ladies is in attendance. Tonight there will be a theater party for ladies at the Macdonough by the Pacific Gas & Electric Company, and tonight the delegates will attend a banquet at the Key Route Inn.

YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

At the opening of the afternoon session yesterday, Secretary Britton announced that C. O. G. Miller and the Weisbach Light Company had each agreed to contribute $100 per year for five years to the gas engineer degree fund.

The first paper of the best read was that by E. C. Jones on "Unstable Hydrocarbons in Illuminating Gas." The paper was technical to a great degree and was listened to with great interest by all the delegates. John Martin said that every manufacturer of gas should make an attempt to educate the people that there should be a change in the candle power of gas.

Mr. Berkeley said that as soon as it was possible to get a cheaper gas they would be able to increase the output. Candle power should no longer be considered as a standard. The electric companies would take all the trade. L. P. Lowe said that electric manufacturing companies came to the Pacific coast because of the gas works. But over the world there were thousands more open gas burners used than there were Weisbach lamps. Any change in the standard would have to be slow and considerable. How were they going to do away with candle power? That standard was going to remain, because the people knew what a candle was. If a sweeping reduction were to be made it should be modern cutting of a twenty per cent unit of light.

Mr. Keith said he used electricity at home for lighting purpose and gas only for heat and cooking. The paper on "The Naphthalene Problem in Oil Manufacture and Distribution," by F. S. Wade, was read by Mr. Baurhyte. The writer sought to show that naphthalene could be used to advantage in the making of gas and gave a number of experiments for the purpose of reaching that conclusion. In some instances, the use of naphthalene caused some condensation on the part of consumers, but eventually the cause was discovered and the remedy applied.

Dr. C. Jones said he doubted that Wade had secured the needed candle power. The next paper was on "Rate Fixing," by Professor C. L. Cory. Rates, he said, should be determined by the reasonable cost of producing a product. The business of manufacturing gas had been standardized and the work of determining the same was comparatively easy. The owners of plants were entitled to a reasonable return on their investment, including a large variety of items of cost, but the consumer should not be required to pay for bad management which had caused expenditures which were unnecessary.

The writer elaborated these and a hundred other elementary principles, going into a detail which seemed to cover every possible contingency in the matter of determining the cost of gas plants, with a view to the part of municipalities, other disposition or for the establishing of rates to be paid by consumers. Nearly an hour and a half was required for the reading of the paper and at the conclusion the speaker was rewarded with a long round of applause.

At the suggestion of Secretary Britton, the discussion of the paper, owing to the lateness of the hour, was deferred until this morning at 10 o'clock.

LAWRENCEBURG, Ky., Sept. 20.—"Triumphant Democracy is now the resounding theme of every tongue. After 17 years of wandering in the wilderness, we this day stand upon Mount Victory and look into the Promised Land which we will enter and possess in 1912."

So declared Champ-Clark, speaker of the National House of Representatives, in an address here today. Clark was born near Lawrenceburg, March 7, 1856, and until today had not been there since he taught a country school. Continuing he said:

"Democrats everywhere are cheerful, hopeful, confident, united and aggressive. While our Republican friends are sad, hopeless, despondent on the defensive and split into bitter factions constantly at each other's throats."

"One of the chief reasons why we won in 1910 was that the Democrats and insurgent Republicans in Congress kept constantly hammering on the broken promises of the Republican standpatters, on their gross perjury to their pledges and upon their record of the righteous demands of the people. We appealed to the country on that record and won an astonishing victory which, let us hope, is only the beginning of a long series of victories for lower taxes, for greater economies and for better government."

Olympic was safely docked here a little after 3 o'clock this afternoon.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The office here of the White Star line had no information concerning the collision of the Olympic with the British cruiser Hawke other than that contained in the press dispatches. The names of the Olympic's passengers are not known here.

On her previous trip to this port the Olympic brought 715 first cabin, 499 second cabin passengers and 714 steerage. This is the largest number of cabin passengers ever brought on a trans-Atlantic liner. The commander of the Olympic is E. J. Smith. The Hawke is a protected cruiser and was launched at Chatham, Eng., in 1891. She is 360 feet long and has a displacement of 7,350 tons.

Herbert Bovenizer, who are to act as receiving tellers. The deposits and the system, generally, are to be conducted on the second floor of the postoffice, in the large room which was formerly used as the United States Landoffice.

The department has not as yet been prepared for the conduct of the business after the manner in which is later to be introduced, for the reason that there is now but a counter to separate the depositors from the working force of the bank. It is the intention to cut windows in the wall of the room opening off the main corridor and install at each window, in cages, the receiving tellers and others connected with the system. According to the business will be conducted by the depositor standing in the hall and the tellers within the room.

DUPLICATES MADE.

After the application envelope was thus disposed of, application was made for the certificate of deposit which was issued on the showing made. Duplicates are made of the certificate, one of which is delivered to the depositor and the other deposited in a second envelope and both of these envelopes are retained in the bank in the form of the books which are kept showing the dealings between the depositor and the United States Postal Department as the custodian of the funds confided to its care.

Mrs. Benengstrom said that she had deposited with the system, for the reason that the United States government could not be overturned or put in such a condition as to make it impossible for it to return the funds entrusted to it. She had never before seen such a deposit made in any postal savings bank in any other country either in the New or Old World. She was not afraid of banks which were solidly based, but there were many such institutions which did not have the proper backing and as a consequence were to be feared.

NOT DISSATISFIED.

The names of depositors said that it was because of entire dissatisfaction with regular banking institutions that he was making use of the postal savings system. He had some funds and had them in several banks and had withdrawn the $100 from those for the purpose of depositing it with Uncle Sam. He did not think it advisable to have all one's eggs in one basket.

He had been a depositor in several banks and had lost in some instances by the failure of those institutions. The materials utilized in the preparing did not distrust banks, as a general thing, he thought it might be advisable to patronize the postal system now that it had been inaugurated by the United States government.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The strike of the ladies' tailors and dressmakers, which has been in progress here for a week, will be settled by arbitration. The strikers are to return to work at once pending the decision of the arbitrators. Employers and employees have agreed upon a permanent arbitration plan by which a strike in the future will be prevented.

ACCUSED OF SMUGGLING.

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—Charged with having smuggled Chinese into this country during the last few years, Moy Sing, 50 years old, is under arrest, together with Moy Tso, 18 years old, and Moy Chang, 18 years old, who are said to have been brought here to November 18 from Canada by way of Detroit.

A Safe, Quick Way to Clean Silver (Recommended by the Gold Dust Twins)

Instead of scouring and rubbing each piece of silver after each meal, put the silver in a separate tin by itself; cover with lukewarm water, to which a tablespoonful of Gold Dust washing powder has been added. Set the pan on the range until the water gets to boiling point; lift the silver out, wipe each piece with a soft linen cloth and polish with a chamois skin. Silver that is seldom used should be wrapped in Canton flannel.

LOST OR STRAYED, ONE CORNERSTONE

No Reward Is, However, Offered for Its Return to the City Hospital.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—Mayor McCarthy's removal of the cornerstone of the San Francisco hospital that was laid by former Mayor Taylor, was discussed yesterday before the public buildings committee of the Board of Supervisors.

Public Works Commissioner Newsom and C. Donker of the city architect's office assured the members of the committee that it was not the McCarthy administration which removed the cornerstone from the foundation of the new hospital.

They said this was done under the Taylor administration for the reason that the stone had not been properly set.

Commissioner Newsom admitted that it had been agreed lately between himself and Commissioner Casey to set a new cornerstone, which "should give credit to Mayor McCarthy and the present Board of Works," but he sought to justify this by quoting Assistant City Architect A. Lamb, who is in charge of the hospital erection, as having said that the old stone was not of a character to harmonize with the general wall construction.

The public buildings committee decided, however, while voting to expunge the present administration from the charge of having been in any way at fault as to the removal of the former stone, to recommend that neither the new stone to be used in this building nor any made use of later in other public buildings shall bear the name of any public official or other individual.

ALL NAMES TABOOED.

Commissioner Newsom said that the present Board of Public Works had taken no steps to commemorate itself on the cornerstones of buildings for which it considers that it is responsible, such as the girls' high school and the Hall of Justice, though admitting that it had been proposed to put Mayor McCarthy's name on the new hospital stone.

In other words, suggested Supervisor Gallagher, proposed to immortalize Mayor McCarthy instead of Mayor Taylor. "Maybe you'd better get two stones, and put both sets of names in the building," he said, "and let the information considered desirable to be handed down to future ages."

An investigation of the McCarthy administration's removal of the cornerstone by the grand jury was launched last night with a general discussion of the matter. No witnesses were examined.

"We have not taken any action yet," said Grand Jury Foreman Frank H. Wright. "We have to look up the legal side of the matter first."

REFUSE TO SUSPEND PROPOSED REDUCTIONS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Disregarding the protest of the Eastern trunk lines, the Interstate Commerce Commission declined today to suspend a proposed reduction in the rail and late rate on flour from Minnesota transfer points to New York, and also refused to permit the Eastern lines to withdraw their concurrence in the reduced rate.

The commission considers today's decision the most important freight traffic action taken for many months and likely to cause protracted litigation. It affects the enormous flour traffic between the Minnesota territory and the East exclusive of shipments for export.

REAR ADMIRAL ILL.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Rear Admiral Benjamin Franklin Isherwood, retired, who was chief engineer of the United States navy from 1881 to 1889, and who is now in his ninetieth year, is dangerously ill at his home here. He entered the navy in 1844 and in 1884 was retired.

IMPRESSED WITH OAKLAND HARBOR

B. N. Baker Declares the Work Being Done Looks Well for Future.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—At the conclusion of a luncheon held yesterday in the St. Francis Hotel green room, at which time nearly two dozen representative men of the bay cities were present, including Frank K. Mott of Oakland, B. N. Baker expressed himself as being greatly impressed with the work now being undertaken on Oakland's western waterfront.

"I was taken all around the territory this morning and it impressed me as being a wonderful work that the city is now carrying on. When completed there is no doubt but what it will offer the greatest advantage to transportation companies, and it is certain that a tremendous amount of commerce will be handled to its docks where steamship and rail meet."

"I cannot say at this time to what extent my company will operate there. Time will have to tell that, but it is certain that when the docks are completed and ready to handle business, that our ships will be unloading merchandise and passengers there."

Rev. Charles Aked, pastor of the First Congregational church of San Francisco, and one of the leading preachers of America, will give his views upon the suffrage question at a mass meeting to be held tomorrow evening in the Macdonough Theater under the direction of the College Equal Suffrage League. Miss Gail Laughlin of Denver, who has been representing the league in the interest of suffrage throughout the State, will also speak. Mrs. F. C. Turner, one of the enthusiastic campaign workers, will preside. Members of the league will act as ushers.

Among those who will occupy seats on the platform are: Miss Anita Whitney, president of the league; Miss Caroline Jackson, Miss Ethel Moore, Mrs. C. C. Hall, Dr. Von Adelung, Dr. W. A. Smith and Charles S. Greene.

The session has been arranged by Mrs. J. F. Farrell, Mrs. Arthur Washburn and Mrs. Walter Henry.

SONOMA CITY SWEEP BY $100,000 BLAZE

SONOMA, Sept. 20.—This city suffered the most destructive fire of its history late yesterday. The blaze started from the explosion of a coal oil stove in the shoe store in the Robert A. Pope building, and before the flames were gotten under control damage had been done to the extent of $75,000 to $100,000. At one time the roof of the Mission Francisco de Solano, the last of the missions to be established by the padres in early days, was on fire, but the damage done to the mission was slight, however.

The water supply of the town soon gave out and two large casks of wine which were close at hand were utilized to assist in quenching the flames.

Pope's grocery and general merchandise store, the Victor and Elsmarck hotels, a second-hand store, two bakeries and two restaurants were consumed by the flames.

PACIFIC LINER RAIDED BY BAND OF THIEVES

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 20.—Detectives went on the steamer Majura on her arrival from Australia yesterday to search for some thieves who had been busy on the voyage.

After the liner left Honolulu a number of passengers reported to Captain Gibb that watches, jewelry and money had been stolen from their state rooms. The flute player of Sousa's band lost four instruments.

In the short tunnel, hidden under some engine room stores, two gold watches and a brooch were found and two stairways were uncovered. Suspicion at first attached to the stairways, but the robbery continued after they had been looked up.

MILLIONAIRE'S EFFIGIES BURNED AT MENLO PARK

MENLO PARK, Sept. 20.—Timothy Hopkins, E. J. Crane, Harry Morey and C. A. Brady, millionaire residents of this place were burned in effigy here.

The occasion for the demonstration was due to the stand they took in the movement to incorporate the town, which the salient element is strongly in favor of accomplishing. For a time these and other leading citizens here, endorsed the proposal and were foremost in the controversy between this town and Fair Oaks, which Menlo Park has been seeking to include.

SHRINERS WILL MAKE PILGRIMAGE TO SANTA ROSA

FRANK W. BILGER.

Frank W. Bilger, illustrious potentate of Aahmes Temple, A. A. O. N. M. Shriners, will head the delegation of 250 Oakland Shriners who will make a pilgrimage by special train to Santa Rosa on Saturday, September 30. The train will be run over the Southern Pacific lines, leaving Sixteenth street station at 12:15, and will consist of the finest equipment which the railroad can furnish for the occasion.

The pilgrimage is one of several which the members of Aahmes Temple plan to make during the year. This, however, is the first which has been made since the temple passed out of the grand central body's dispensation and received a charter of its own, and it will be made accordingly ceremonious. The special band of Aahmes Temple, composed of thirty members of the temple who do not have the musical body, will accompany the party, as well as the Patrol of thirty-three members.

At Santa Rosa delegations will also be present from Healdsburg, Petaluma, Ukiah and other temples from the surrounding districts, and initiation services followed by an elaborate banquet will be part of the features of the day in which the Oakland men will play a prominent part.

COTTON TANGLES NEW YORK COURT

Fluffy Product Closely Woven Into Litigation Over Big Firm's Failure.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—While cotton men of two continents are discussing plans for guaranteeing the quality of the product, the courts of this country have yet to untangle the snarl of litigation created by the failure of Steel, Miller & Company of Corinth, Miss., whose crash precipitated all the trouble.

These actions involve $28,000 and will be settled in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, where the cases are on the calendar. All are actions in equity and the plaintiffs are Mississippi banks and the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad. All seek to recover from the New York Dock Company cotton shipped to New York by Steel, Miller & Company, for which Stephen M. Ward, New York, cotton broker, held bills of lading, which the plaintiffs charged were forged.

DENIES WEALTHY MEN BACK RELIGIOUS CULT

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 20.—That the Men and Religion's Forward Movement is neither controlled nor financed by a small group of very wealthy men of Wall street, New York, is the statement unhesitatingly and emphatically made by Henry Rood, national publicity secretary of the Forward movement, who is here today from New York.

"The story that a comparatively few important financiers are behind this religious effort is simply nonsense," he said. "The expenses of this continental campaign are being paid, for the most part, by small subscriptions."

CHECK FOR $6,486,000 LEADS TO AN ARREST

TORONTO, Sept. 20.—At the Dominion bank Fred A. Turner of Minneapolis asked the cashier if a check for $550 was good. The check purported to be from the bank of England and made payable to the Dominion bank, Montreal branch. He then told the cashier he had another for a larger amount, and produced one for $6,486,000 made payable to him and signed John Hodgson.

Turner claimed that these checks had been given him for a good turn he had done Hodgson, who was also from Minneapolis. Turner is being held while the police make inquiry. He had three other checks, two for $255 and one for $100.

HUMILIATION OF ARREST CAUSES SUICIDE ATTEMPT

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Humiliated by her arrest on a charge of disorderly conduct, Mrs. Mary Sullivan, a Brooklyn housewife, attempted to commit suicide several times before finally being straight-jacketed in a cot at Bellevue hospital, early today. Two of the attempts at suicide were made in the patrol wagon and the others in a cell at the police station, where she was quarantined pending an examination.

STOCKTON, Sept. 20.—District Attorney Toltz in a communication to the Stockton merchants' association, advises all merchants to refrain from any schemes for the distribution of prizes in connection with the sale of their wares. It is held by the local official that all such methods are lotteries within the meaning of the law.

POLITICAL PARTIES ACTIVE IN CANADA

Hundreds of Speakers On the Stump for Last Day.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 20.—The final day of the campaign for the election of members to the twelfth parliament of Canada is notable for the unprecedented activity of both political parties, orators for and against reciprocity being scheduled to speak at hundreds of places all over Canada this afternoon and evening. The liberals and conservatives are actively engaged in preparations to bring out their full vote.

Three liberals at large have already been elected by acclamation. They are Sir Wilfrid Laurier in Quebec East; J. A. Ether of Two Mountains, and Wm. German of Welland county, Ont. German is an avowed opponent of reciprocity, however.

POLITICIANS ACTIVE.

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 20.—Politicians were everywhere today. The closing of the seven weeks campaign has stirred Canada from Vancouver to Halifax as never before. Final instructions were sent to the political workers today and complete arrangements for getting out the voters were being made by the parties. The liberals are making a determined attempt to defeat Robert L. Borden, the conservative leader.

25,000 ODD FELLOWS WILL MARCH TONIGHT

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 20.—With the annual encampment parade scheduled tonight, more Odd Fellows and visitors are arriving hourly. The weather is bright and cool, ideal for the marchers, and it is expected there will be more than 25,000 in line.

The most important business to come before the sovereign grand lodge today will be the vote to ratify or reject the proposition to make the office of commander of the Patriarchs Militant appointive by the grand sire of the order. Heretofore the office has been elective and the Patriarchs Militant voted against a change yesterday.

MRS. LOUISE C. HARLOW DIES AT OAKLAND HOME

Mrs. Louise C. Harlow, wife of W. S. Harlow, who was for many years under sheriff of Alameda county, died at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at her residence, 1042 Adeline street, after a long illness. Mrs. Harlow was a native of St. Louis, Mo., and 67 years old. Besides her husband she leaves a daughter, Elizabeth C. Harlow, and two sons, W. W. Eames and Frank T. Eames. Mrs. Harlow was a member of Unity Chapter No. 65, Order of the Eastern Star. The chapter will conduct the funeral services tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 at the Harlow residence.

BOWERY COFFEE GOES UP TWO CENTS CUP

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Recent advances in the price of sugar, coffee and milk have led the Bowery eating houses to order an advance in the price of coffee from one cent a cup to three cents. These prices are the highest in the city on the East Side, and the increase will affect thousands of the lodging-house and tenement population.

BRITISHERS JAILED AS ACCUSED SPIES

EMDEN, Prussia, Sept. 20.—Two Englishmen, said to be officers of the British army, were detained here because of the suspicion that they have been guilty of espionage. The men were arrested yesterday and released after examination. They were again taken into custody today on orders from Berlin.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—A chair thrown out a twelfth-story window in a hotel on West Thirty-sixth street yesterday dropped on Henry Dermody, a waiter who was standing on the sidewalk, and killed him.

GOODFELLOW WARNS CITY.

SANTA CRUZ, Sept. 20.—City Attorney Johnston read letters to the city council yesterday from Attorney W. S. Goodfellow, who is representing the city in the present wharf litigation before the Supreme Court, to the effect that the city would make a fatal error if at this time it attempted to pass an ordinance fixing rates for wharfage and dockage on the railroad wharf.

THREE HURT IN RUNAWAY.

MARYSVILLE, Sept. 20.—Frightened at the clanging of the bell and because the street car kept pace with the rig along the street, the spirited horse owned and driven by J. J. Sutter, ran away yesterday morning, ripping into another rig and injuring three men, Edward F. Hirsch, D. R. Clyma and Hogoboom, and smashing the two vehicles.

TO LECTURE AT STANFORD.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Sept. 20.—Miss Margaret Haley, who has made so successful a campaign in the interest of the working girls in Chicago, will deliver a lecture here tomorrow evening on the scientific and economic phases of the suffrage question. Miss Haley has made a life study of the economic conditions of the working women and is well qualified to lecture on the subject.

SHAKERS DENY DEFENSE.

CANTERBURY, N. H., Sept. 20.—Reports that the Shakers of the country intend to raise a large fund for the defense of Elizabeth Sears and E. B. Gillett, members of the Shaker colony at Kinsbury, N. H., who were charged with administering chloroform to Sadie Marchant when she was in the last stages of tuberculosis, are denied by Elder Arthur Bruce of the Canterbury Shaker colony.

SELL BURNED TIMBER.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—The government saved itself from a total loss by the forest fires in the northwest last year by a deal closed yesterday for the sale of 125,000,000 feet of fire killed timber in Idaho. With the burned outside taken off this timber is as good for manufacturing purposes as any other lumber.

BURLINGAME MAN IS VICTIM OF HOLDUP
BURLINGAME, Sept. 20.—Robert H. Bradrick, formerly captain and pitcher of the Burlingame baseball team and a member of the San Mateo gun club, was seriously wounded, and his brother, Melvin Bradrick, was killed, in a hold-up at Crescent City, Ill., 80 miles from Chicago.
The news was received by William J. Bradrick, a contractor of Burlingame, in the following telegram: "Mel dead. I am wounded. In hold-up.—Bob."
Robert Bradrick went east several weeks ago to visit his old home in Illinois and expected to return to California soon. William J. Bradrick, who is a brother of the victims of the holdup, left for Chicago yesterday morning.

ARCHBISHOP OPPOSES JOHNSON-WELLS FIGHT
LONDON, Sept. 20.—The Archbishop of Canterbury yesterday sent the following note to the Rev. F. B. Meyer, who is leading the fight against the proposed Johnson-Wells match at Epslehurst on October 2: "The idea that such a spectacle should be sanctioned in London is repellant to me. On the other hand, I imagine there will be difficulty in legally defining the difference between a pure fight and an innocent-looking boxing match. The official responsibility lies with the home secretary, to whom I have written."

Their exhibit at the International Art Exhibition in Turin, Italy, has received first prize, the first award ever given in Europe to American pottery.

IS KIMMEL ALIVE OR DEAD? WHEN IS CORPORAL NOT CORPORAL UNANSWERED

City Council, Attorney and Civil Service Commission Try Hand at "Passing the Buck"

Mother Declares Reputed Son Is Imposter, but Many Others Say Not

Meantime Insurance Company Withholds $20,000 Policy on His Life

NILES, Mich., Sept. 20.—Still claiming to be the son of Mrs. Estella Kimmel, he is recognized by her as an imposter, of her son, for whose death she received insurance money, the man who came from the Auburn (N. Y.) penitentiary and was identified by scores of people as George Kimmel, was uncertain today whether he would attempt to see his "mother," Kimmel, who says he disappeared 13 years ago, and now returns after a $5000 life insurance has been paid on his death, said he had no motive in returning other than love for his mother.

"I do not want to cheat anyone out of the $20,000 more life insurance which my relatives would receive if they could prove I am dead," said Kimmel, "but I am not dead."

"When I disappeared 13 years ago undoubtedly my family did think I was dead. Some years later my mother proved in court that there was evidence to show I was dead. One insurance company promptly paid her $5000, but another company holding a $20,000 policy appeared and said they would locate me."

PROMOTINGS OF LOVE.

"They did find me in jail. Then my mother heard of it, but she refused to change her position. Four years ago they brought us face to face in Auburn penitentiary. My mother appeared before me and recognized me. While we were talking the guards stepped aside and I whispered in my mother's ear, 'What am I to call you if not mother?' She looked at me in silence and then whispered, 'When we are alone I will call you mother.'"

"That was an outburst of mother love which she could not suppress. Afterward she appeared to regret it. I wonder whether that impulse will assert itself or whether she will acknowledge by my friends, I am forever to be disowned by my mother."

Kimmel today was still at the home of Mrs. Harry T. Fox, who recognized him as a cousin. He said his mother would have to call on him if she wanted to see him.

HIS HOMECOMING.

Kimmel arrived at his old home here from the penitentiary at Auburn, N. Y., late yesterday and was identified by dozens of former friends and associates. Among those who identified Kimmel was his cousin, Mrs. Harry L. Fox, who opened her home to the wanderer and held a celebration of his return. Despite Kimmel's identification, however, and his acceptance by other relatives, his mother, Mrs. Stella Kimmel, refuses to see him.

In 1898 his mother instituted suit in the St. Louis courts to secure the insurance which she held on his life. A jury returned a verdict in her favor and declared Kimmel to be legally dead. Upon this verdict one company paid Mrs. Kimmel a $5000 policy. Another company, which carried a $20,000 policy on Kimmel, however, fought the claim and carried the matter to higher courts. Meanwhile this company directed a search for Kimmel and finally announced to the court that Kimmel was at Auburn.

"This man is not Kimmel," declared Chief of Police George G. Francis today after a conference with the new comer. "I went to school with Kimmel and would know him well. When I asked this man my name he could not tell. He told me of one having been here with a woman who is now prominent, but I find on investigation that no such light occurred. What the object of this man is in masquerading as Kimmel I do not know. But I am sure he is not Kimmel."

Several other residents also expressed doubt as to the man being Kimmel. At the same time Mrs. Fox, who accepts "Kimmel" as her son, says she is convinced of his identity. "Tattoo marks on his wrist and his recollection of various details of family history, she says, make it impossible that 'Kimmel' is not Kimmel."

It was arranged to take "Kimmel" about the city this afternoon to see whether he could recognize local landmarks.

MOTHER AND "SON" MEET.

"Why, mother don't you know me?" the man who claims to be George Alfred Kimmel exclaimed later today as the woman entered the home of a cousin where the man of mystery has been acknowledged as a relative. As he spoke he stepped forward with arms extended, but the woman recoiled and responded sharply:

"I'm not sure about that."

Then she subjected "Kimmel" to a cross-examination that went into details of her son's early life and school days in Niles. She asked him also why, if he was her son, he had not written to her during the many years he was away from home.

The interview was, if anything, more dramatic than the former meeting between the two. Earlier in the day the man had returned to identify himself as Kimmel, and had declared that if his mother wished to see him she would have to call on him.

When they came face to face he made the first advances, and after her refusal exclaimed:

"How can you say any such thing, mother?"

MAN CLOSELY QUESTIONED.

Then they sat down facing each other and the fire of questions began behind closed doors. He was asked his age, birthplace, several questions about his father, where he went to school, why and when he left Niles, and what circumstances had prevented him from informing those at home of his whereabouts and actions. Mrs. Kimmel is not ready to deny flatly that the man is her son, neither will she admit that his claims are just. When she saw him in Auburn she was emphatic in her denunciation of his claims.

Former acquaintances of the woman's son are divided as to the identity of the man. Some asserted that he was Kimmel, but others declared that he was an imposter.

GROSSCUP SHADOWED 2 YEARS

Jurist Admits Mysterious Sleuth Had Him Under Surveillance

Government and Magazine Are Hinted at as Employers of Detective

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—Following the formal announcement yesterday by United States Circuit Judge Grosscup that he would resign from the federal bench, he confirmed last night a report that he had been under surveillance for two years by some unfriendly agency whose motive he could not give. He said he had nothing to conceal from the public and that the shadowing did not cause him to resign. His motive was political freedom, he said.

It developed that the man who has directed this inquiry is Lawrence Kime, a former agent in the government secret service. He has done little else for two years. He or his agents during that period have dogged Judge Grosscup's every step.

So persistent was the pursuit that when the judge went abroad a year ago last spring he was not allowed to go alone. A "shadow" is said to have followed him all the way to Europe and back. The agency that directed Kime's activities could not be learned.

EMPLOYERS NOT KNOWN.

"Do you know whom Kime has been working for?" the judge was asked.

"I heard at one time that he was working for the government," replied the jurist. "But I believe, is untrue. I also heard that he was working for a magazine. That report I also believe to be untrue. There is nothing either in my private or professional life that I am afraid of having investigated. I have nothing to conceal."

"How did you hear of Kime's work?"

"Several of my close friends came to me and told me that Kime was threatening to write me up. I was told a long time ago that an eastern magazine was ready to begin a series of stories about me a year ago. These threats were never stronger than that, and were also brought to me by my friends to whom Kime had talked. I would not know Kime if I saw him."

It developed during the day that Lawrence Kime was employed by a magazine publisher in New York.

TRIBUTE PAID TO WOMAN'S MEMORY

Funeral of Mrs. E. L. Miller Is Held From Home This Morning.

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth L. Miller, wife of the late Henry M. Miller of this city, was held this morning from the family residence, 328 Grand avenue, where a large company of friends and relatives assembled. The parlor was decorated with floral tributes, which were arranged by Mrs. Miller's friends.

Religious service was read by Rev. Alexander Allen, pastor of St. Paul's church. The deceased was the mother of Bernard P. Miller, formerly of this city, who has been engaged in mining in Utah. He left last state yesterday morning and will probably arrive here next Saturday.

Two sons survive Mrs. Miller. They are Bernard P. and Harry H. Miller. The sisters are Mrs. R. Pacheco of New York and Mrs. J. H. Wilson of this city. The pallbearers were Bert York, Rollin Oliver, Percy Raymond and Walter Cole. The body was interred in Mountain View cemetery.

DENIES WOMAN'S CHARGE OF FRAUD

Judge N. A. Hawkins of Tolo county, sitting in the auxiliary department of the Superior Court last night, denied the trial of the suit brought by Louise Lauterback against her brother-in-law, Martin Lauterback, who is now property valued at $8000, and resumed the hearing today. The case probably will be submitted tomorrow.

Mrs. Lauterback, who is 60 years old, claims that on account of her infirmities she allowed her brother-in-law to transfer business for her and that while acting as her agent he induced her to sign a deed conveying to him the property in question, withholding from her the fact that the instrument was a conveyance. She claims that Lauterback took advantage of her age and infirmities and that she was signing when she made the conveyance and that the deed was given under his agreement to provide for the lady during the remainder of her life.

WILLIAM AND MAUDE ROGERS ON THEIR WAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—William Rogers and his wife, Maude, who were arrested in this city some time ago, charged with having in their possession goods stolen from the Kohn Jewelry Company of Auckland, New Zealand, who have been fighting extradition, were taken aboard the steamer Maitai this morning, bound for that country, by City Government Agent Scott. The couple are said to have made away with $40,000 worth of jewelry which they brought to this country for disposal.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—An unidentified laborer was struck and killed by a street car this morning at Fort-second avenue and H street. He was working for a construction company on a sewer and he attempted to cross the car track with a loaded wheelbarrow.

Y. M. C. A. CAMPAIGN FOR MEMBERS OPENED TODAY

"Blues" and "Reds" Fire First Gun in Battle to Secure Additions to Rolls of Organization

As a result of the first morning's work, 224 new members were added to the Y. M. C. A. rolls at noon today.

Armed with application blanks and all the pamphlets of the association, fifty enthusiastic workers of the Young Men's Christian Association started out this morning determined to secure 1000 members for the organization before tomorrow.

Two teams, designated as the "blues" and the "reds" composed of 50 members each, entered the membership campaign which is being directed by W. N. Jenkins, commander-in-chief. The leaders in the association movement will devote two days to the cause. Every member of the teams has pledged himself to deposit the names of at least ten members on the new roster. The captains are H. H. Gribben, who is in charge of the "Reds," and Dr. George T. Pomeroy, who is directing the maneuvers of the "Blues."

One hundred and twenty-five members of the Oakland Y. M. C. A. and prominent business men of the city met about the banquet table at the Association building, Jones street and Telegraph avenue, last night to fire the opening gun in the campaign for 1000 new members of the organization. The banquet was presided over by H. C. Capwell, president of the Chamber of Commerce, as toastmaster, and speeches on the campaign were made by Mayor Frank H. Mott, A. A. Denison, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; W. N. Jenkins, chairman of the committee of 100 Y. M. C. A. men who will conduct the campaign; B. E. Wilcox, general secretary of the local association, and H. H. Gribben and Dr. George T. Pomeroy, the captains of the two divisions of fifty men each who will do the work.

The Mayor, in the course of his remarks, said:

"The Association now has about 1500 members, I am told. We—for I am a member of this institution, although I have been such for only a few days, much the more shame to me and to you, for not having gotten after me before—we, I say, now want to increase this membership during this campaign by 1000 members, making a total of 2500. The truth of the matter is that in a city this size we should be ashamed of ourselves to have only 1500 members, and be after only 1000 more; we should set our mark for 5000 instead of 2500."

Secretary Denison of the Chamber of Commerce was the next speaker, and after declaring that the demand of the day was for men of character and capacity, said:

"It is because the Young Men's Christian Association contributes to all-round development because it works to make men who are strong not only in moral fibre but are strong physically, and robust in character, that it serves a definite purpose and deserves the support of the community."

W. N. Jenkins, leader of the campaign, H. H. Gribben, Dr. G. T. Pomeroy, E. B. Wilcox, general secretary of the association, and A. A. Adams, its vice-president, spoke. It was announced that several business houses agreed to pay half the cost of membership of any of their employees who wished to join the Association. The news was greeted with cheers and applause. The following are the firms:

THROWS GRIP FROM CAR AND TRIES TO FOLLOW IT

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—After throwing his suit case through the window of a rapidly moving Santa Fe train last night, John H. Thielbar, a 67-year-old father of three, attempted to follow it. He was arrested and brought to the Central detention hospital, where he will be held for observation. Thielbar gave his home as 1500 North Main street, Peoria, Ill., where he lived with his sister, a Mrs. Miller. It was stated by the trainmen that he had been drinking heavily during his journey.

BOY IS MISSING.

The disappearance of Eddie Miller, a 16-year-old boy residing at 752 Ninth street, was reported to the police this morning by Edith Miller of the same address. Miller left his home Monday morning to go to work and has not been seen since.

FOWLER WILL RESUME FLIGHT ON THURSDAY

COLFAX, Sept. 19.—Aviator Fowler announced that he will make a trial flight tomorrow and hopes to resume his journey to the East Thursday. The repairs to the machine are nearly complete.

ENDS DYSPEPSIA IN FEW MINUTES

Heartburn, Gas, Indigestion and All Stomach Misery
Vanishes.

There would not be a case of indigestion here is readers who are subject to stomach trouble knew the tremendous anti-ferment and digestive virtue contained in Diapepsin. This harmless preparation will digest a heavy meal without the slightest fuss or discomfort, and relieve the sourest acid stomach in five minutes, besides overcoming all foul, nauseous odors from the breath.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on each 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will readily understand why this promptly cures indigestion and removes such symptoms as Heartburn, a feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, Belching of Gas and Eructations of undigested food, water brash, Nausea, Headache, Bloating and many other bad symptoms; and, besides, you will not need laxatives to keep your stomach, liver and intestines clean and fresh.

If your Stomach is sour and full of gas, or your food doesn't digest, and your meals don't seem to fit, why not get a 50-cent case from your druggist and make life worth living? Absolute relief from Stomach misery and perfect digestion of anything you eat is sure to follow five minutes after, and, besides, one 50-cent case is sufficient to cure a whole family of such trouble.

Surely, a harmless, inexpensive preparation like Pape's Diapepsin, which will always, either at daytime or during night, relieve your stomach misery and digest your meals, is about as handy and valuable a thing as you could have in the house.

PHYSICIANS RESORT TO FISTIC BATTLE

McNutt Hospital Corridor the Scene of Professional Combat.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—After disagreeing as to the exact condition of a patient, three physicians yesterday resorted to blows and for a few moments the corridors of the McNutt hospital at 1055 Pine street, where the fracas took place, resounded with the noise of the combat. The physicians were separated and the battle ended with the following list of casualties:

Dr. Charles E. Mosser of Reno, one bruised optic.

Dr. F. P. Canac Marquis of the Elkan Gunst building, one bitten hand.

Dr. A. F. Camp of the Whitney building injured feelings.

There are, of course, two versions of the fray, but the main points agree. It developed that Dr. Mosser brought to this city from Reno one of his patients, M. Laver, for the purpose of performing here an operation upon him, after obtaining a diagnosis from other local physicians.

The patient was taken to the McNutt hospital and Dr. Mosser was requested by Dr. Mosser to attend in consultation for the patient.

Max M. Cohn, brother-in-law of the patient, however, insisted that Dr. Sampson be also called into consultation, and this, apparently started the whole trouble.

Dr. Sampson, following the consultation, was asked for his opinion and it was so opposite to what had been expected that the tempers of the other physicians began to rise.

All parties agree that Dr. Mosser said that Dr. Sampson was no gentleman and a repetition of the same brought Dr. Sampson's right fist into close proximity with Dr. Mosser's left eye. Dr. Marquis then attempted to interfere and at this point opinions differ as to what exactly took place.

WORK IS RUSHED ON NEW VALLEJO ROAD

VALLEJO, Sept. 20.—Announcement was made yesterday by T. C. Gregory, president of the Vallejo & Northern Railroad Company, that two dredgers are at work in the Yolo basin, constructing the roadbed for the new electric line, parallel with the Southern Pacific, and that a great part of the line would be completed before the winter season. It was announced also that the contract for the construction of the whole line between Sacramento and Vallejo would be let in a few days, and that work would be started at the Sacramento end, and at several intermediate points. Construction work has already started in this city.

HANDS WOULD CRACK
OPEN AND BLEED

Blisters Formed, Skin Scaled Off,
and Flesh Burned and Itched
Dreadfully. Healed by Less Than One Cake of Cuticura Soap and One Box of Cuticura Ointment.

"About two months ago my hands started to crack open and bleed, the skin would scale off, and the good flesh would burn and itch dreadfully. When my hands first started to get sore, there were small blisters like water blisters on them. They itched so dreadfully, it seemed as though I could tear the skin all off. I would scratch them and the skin would peel off, and the flesh would be all red and crack open and bleed. It worried me very much, as I had never had anything the matter with my skin. I was so afraid I would have to give up my employment.

"I consulted my doctor, and he said he didn't think it would amount to anything. But it kept getting worse. One day I saw a piece in one of the papers about a lady who had the same trouble with her hands. She had used Cuticura Soap and Ointment and was cured. I decided to try them, and my hands were all healed before I had used one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment. I am truly thankful for the good results from the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, for thanks to them I was cured, and did not have to lose a day from work. I have had no return of the skin trouble." (Signed) Mrs. Mary E. Breit, 2522 Brown Street, Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 12, 1911.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment are for sale everywhere, but those who wish to be sure without charge may do so by sending to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 6, Boston, for a liberal sample of each, post-free, together with 22-p. book on the skin and scalp.

QUEEN OF RANCH RIDERS IS EXPERT "BRONCO BUSTER"

QUEEN OF RANCH RIDERS IS EXPERT "BRONCO BUSTER"

LUCILLE MULHALL, Queen of Ranch Riders, at the Oakland Orpheum this week with "Cheyenne Days."

Lucille Mulhall, the fair "bronco buster," who gives her clever exhibitions of high-school riding in "Cheyenne Days," at the Orpheum, is fresh from the ranch. Miss Lucille does not have to wear a label to prove that she is the genuine article. She wears her buckskin and pistol as gracefully as a society belle with a Parisian gown, and she knows more about riding horses, and roping steers than the average woman knows about embroidery.

Theodore Roosevelt is responsible for her being on the stage. A few years ago, Roosevelt, then President, visited Zack Mulhall at his place about 40 miles north of Oklahoma City. He saw Lucille ride, and witnessed some of her marvelous feats at roping.

"Delighted," he said, "before that girl does anything, you ought to put her on the stage and let the world see what she can do. Zack, she is simply great."

Zack Mulhall took the hint. He not only arranged for the appearance of Lucille, but took part of the ranch with him. He corralled bunch of his meanest broncos, and had an act fixed up in which his three daughters and their brother Charles appeared to advantage.

There was not much stage play in Charles, but when it came to handling the pistol or breaking a bucking horse, he was there with the goods, but he could not get used to the stage. "Me for the real grass," he said. "The stage is all right, but give me a good horse and the grass, and I am right in society."

STAGE IS CRAMPED.
The act opened at the Orpheum theater in Kansas City. It was a little raw at first. The ponies and the broncos were as green as grass on the ranch.

They did not like the lights and the music of which there was a plenty. They could not understand it. It was also a new thing to Lucille. She had no trouble in going through her stunts, but after being out on the open prairie, roping "cramped up" on the stage.

She could not get used to it and thought it funny that people should be interested in seeing them ride on horses. There was nothing marvelous about that on the ranch.

"Hully gee, pop," said one of the younger girls when the audience applauded them the first night. "I guess they never saw any one ride a horse or throw a rope. Isn't that the greatest ever?"

"Perfectly killing," said the others in chorus.

Lucille was the hit. She wears three gold medals that she won in rope-throwing contests.

MANY ARE TRIUMPHS.
Miss Mulhall has scored almost incredible triumphs in lariat-throwing, roping the wildest steers in record time, and having under perfect control, the wildest broncos that ever held a saddle. She holds the world's record made at South Texas, the Indian Territory, in 1905, for roping and tying three steers. The time was as follows: First steer, 30 1-4 seconds; second, 40 1-5 seconds; third steer, 40 1-5 seconds. This was for the championship of the world, in which the most famous cowboys from all parts of the country competed.

She there won a diamond studded medal and a large cash prize. Her peerless work has won hundreds of other prizes and premiums in the most stubbornly contested tournaments throughout Texas, Oklahoma, Indian Territory, Kansas, Arizona, the Dakotas, and other States throughout America, in the past seven years.

GOVERNOR URGES JUDGES RECALL

Johnson Addresses a Large Audience in Opera House at Santa Barbara.

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., Sept. 20.—Governor Hiram W. Johnson urged the initiative, referendum and, particularly, the recall of judges, before a large audience at the opera house here last night.

"We are willing to trust our judges with the recall hanging over them," said the Governor, "and when our friends say it will warp and twist a judge so that he won't do his duty, they who are insulting the judiciary by that sort of argument and insinuation."

"The great majority of our judges are pure and upright. That kind of judge will not be affected by the recall any more than by the power of any litigant in their courts, and when a judge is affected by the power of a litigant, you have a right to put him off the bench."

"If the people in the aggregate cannot be trusted to pass on the qualification of any officer elected by them, the government is at an end, and the experiment may well be tried."

The gubernatorial party came here from San Luis Obispo over the route of the proposed State Coast highway in order that the Governor might see the road.

HUSBAND ACCUSED OF POISONING WIFE

AMERICUS, Ga., Sept. 20.—Following a preliminary hearing at Leesburg today of the case of R. O. Kennedy, charged with causing the death by poisoning of Mrs. Mary Childers, a wife of six months, at Smithville four weeks ago, as a result of which Kennedy was held without bail, Mart Childers, husband of the dead woman, was arrested here last night on a warrant charging him with killing his wife.

FIRE IS DESTRUCTIVE.
SAN JOSE, Sept. 20.—Fire destroyed the large barn on the ranch at Villa street and Castro avenue near Mountain View, owned by Mrs. J. F. Hull and occupied by G. Sorrisi. Two horses were burned to death and two tons of hay were destroyed.

M'CARTHY TALKS OF PURIFIED CITY

Tells Auditors Attempt Will Be Made to Steal Election
From Him.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—Mayor P. H. McCarthy addressed six well attended and enthusiastic meetings last night and concluded his activities for the evening at two balls, one at Puckett's hall and the other in Collingwood hall in his home precinct. The tenor of his speeches was that he had fulfilled the pledges made in his last campaign, by keeping the city government and the city clean, and by maintaining industrial peace during his administration.

To the audience in the theater at Pacific and Hyde streets, McCarthy said that his attempt would be made to steal the election for his opponent, and he warned every one friendly to his administration to be on the watch for ballot box stuffing.

"The practice of stuffing the ballot box is not extinct," he said, "but the methods have changed with the times. In the past it was done by the degraded, while now it is done by the elite of society, who register falsely as residents of this city for the purpose of winning elections for candidates of the interests."

The question of employees of business houses being allowed time to vote was touched on by the mayor, and he said that it was the duty of every voter to take the full day off in order to be sure of casting his ballot rather than to take chances of losing his right of exercising the franchise.

Before going to the Pacific and Hyde streets meeting the mayor spoke at 467 Bryant street and at Fourteenth and Guerrero streets. A meeting at Union hall at Fillmore and Greenwich streets and a smoker finished his platform activities for the night.

INTOXICATED WHEELMAN
TRIES TO SINK BOATS

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—Martin Daily, wheelman of the big freighter Monticello, while intoxicated last night, locked himself in the pilot house of the boat in the harbor mouth and for half an hour attempted to run down outboard vessels and sink motorboats. He was overpowered by other members of the crew, and turned over to the police.

MODESTO'S TAX RATE SHOWS AN INCREASE

MODESTO, Sept. 20.—The tax rate for Stanislaus county was fixed by the board of supervisors at $1.80 outside of the limits of incorporated cities and $1.40 within.

The difference is caused by the road tax of 40 cents paid only by outside property owners. This makes the county rate this year greater than the combined county and state tax last year, which was $1.25 inside the city. The reason for this is the many new bridges having been constructed in the past year and a new county jail has been built.

The only state tax this year is 5 cents and that for the Panama-Pacific exposition. This will make the state and county rate $1.45 inside and $1.65 outside.

NEAPOLITANS AWAIT WRATH OF PATRON

NAPLES, Sept. 20.—Neapolitans are alarmed because the blood of San Gennaro, which is kept in a small vessel in the church of San Gennaro, did not liquefy completely as it should have done. The church was crowded with persons who prayed long and loudly that the blood might liquefy, but without avail.

The fact is taken as an evil omen, and now all Naples looks for an eruption of Vesuvius, epidemics and other fearful calamities. San Gennaro is the patron saint of Naples.

Why This Contradiction?

The Santa Maria Graphic asks this very pertinent question: "If the recall is so good a thing to apply to the judiciary, why is it not just as good to apply to the railroad commissioners? We are told that the one purpose of the recall is to force the railroads out of politics. Such being the case, why then is it that the recall is applied to each and every officer in the State of California except the railroad commissioners? They, if the new amendment is adopted, can only be removed by a two-thirds vote of both branches of the Legislature."

This question has been asked before, but it has never been answered. Governor Johnson makes speeches advocating the application of the recall to the judiciary, but he does not attempt to explain why the railroad commissioners should be exempt from the operation of the recall. The Governor was as instrumental in getting the railroad commission amendment submitted as he was in getting the Legislature to pass the recall amendment. He is sponsor for both propositions. It is incumbent upon him to explain why he wants the railroad commissioners exempted from the recall that he wishes to apply to the judiciary.

The constitutional amendment making the office of railroad commissioner appointive greatly enlarges the powers of the commission. It vests that body with judicial functions of an extraordinary character—in short, makes the Railroad Commission a court of last resort in certain matters. Yet this body is not only exempted from the recall, but removed from the jurisdiction of the electorate. Why?

Make country life attractive. That is the way to arrest the movement of rural population to the cities. By making country life attractive the back-to-the-farm movement will be accelerated. Good roads do more than anything else to make life in the country attractive. They bring the townspeople into companionship with the people of the country. They bring travel and the comforts of life. They put an end to the loneliness and isolation of the farm and give an added zest to rural beauties and pleasures. They make farms more valuable and farming more profitable. They make life in the country worth living by making it human and enjoyable. Good roads bring good society, culture, schools, churches and the joys of human association amid surroundings which sweeten intercourse with nature. They will do more than anything else to bring people in the cities back to the country and to develop the rural districts.

The Money Power of France.

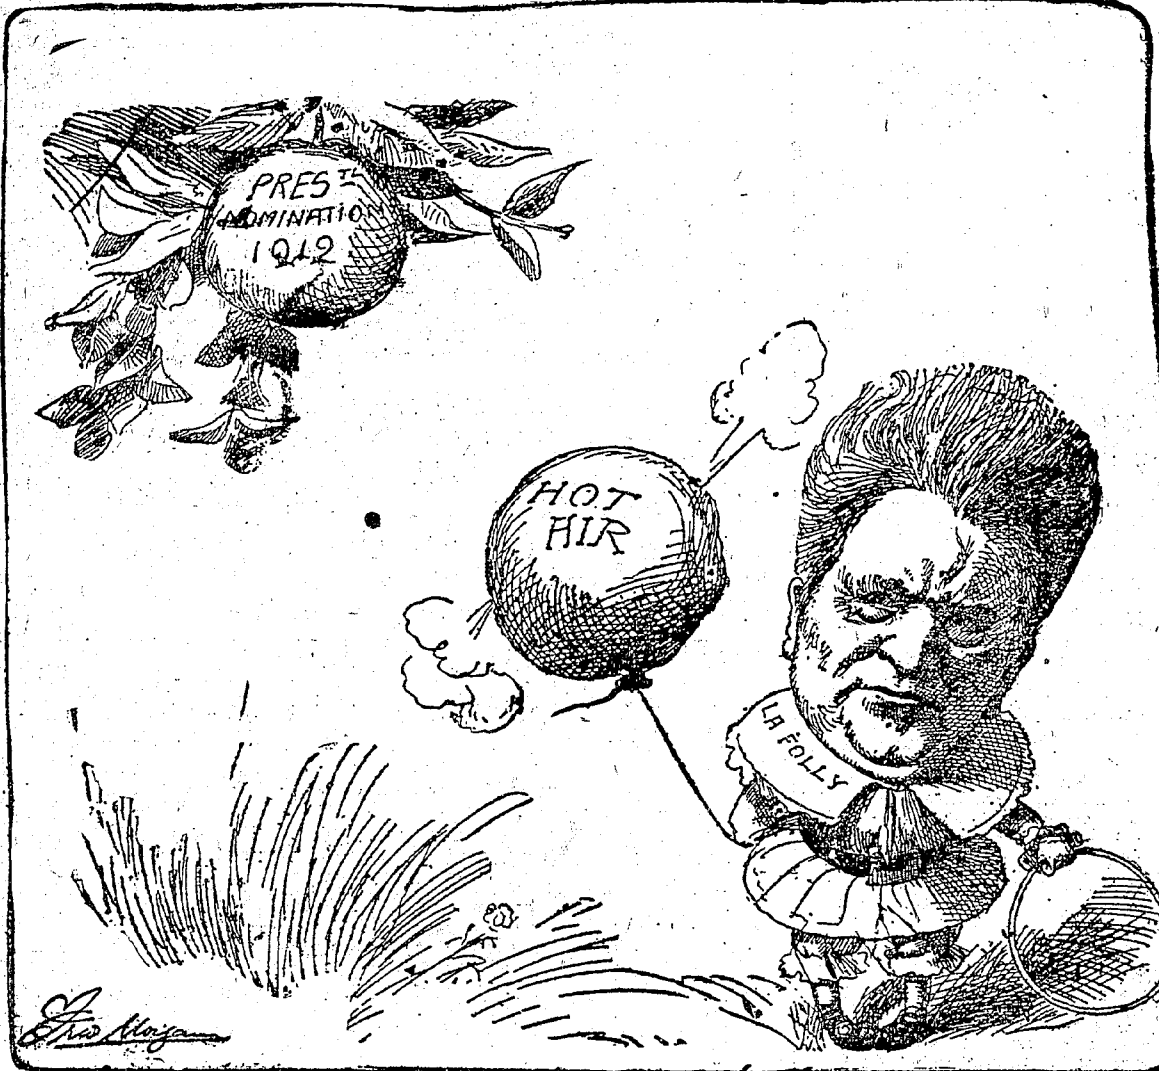

Germany's financial strength is not at all proportionate to her great military strength. That fact has been made plain by the financial stringency caused in Germany by the Moroccan dispute. The calling in of German loans and the curtailment of German credits by the French bankers almost caused a panic in Berlin. Of late Germany has been a great borrower from France. German promoters have gone to Paris to get money for their operations, finding London inhospitable to their propositions. When the political relations between France and Germany became strained, the French bankers began to call in their German loans and curtail German credits. Instantaneously every financial center in Germany felt the effect. The German financiers immediately sought cover, the stock market went to pieces and all speculative values tumbled to the ground. Confidence is not yet restored, although the situation has somewhat improved during the last few days. Holland and Belgium, both centers of capital, showed a disposition to follow the lead of the French bankers, and this aggravated financial distress in Germany. This development was something not counted on by the German foreign office. It had a sobering effect on German financiers and business men even if it did not influence the Imperial Minister of Foreign Affairs. Apparently the French government did not prompt the proceedings which struck German credit such a hard blow. It appears that the French bankers got alarmed and took steps to protect themselves by withdrawing their loans and reducing their German credits to the lowest point consistent with the continued transaction of business. The result, however, was a signal demonstration of France's tremendous financial power, and at the same time a revelation of Germany's financial dependence on her traditional enemy. France is stronger in money than men, but this is an age in which money counts.

It is now claimed that complete returns from the Maine election show a majority of twenty for the repeal of the prohibition clause of the State Constitution. This is a narrow majority, but it will serve. But it will not satisfy the prohibitionists. In fact, so small a majority would not be accepted as conclusive by the side that lost in either case. Naturally the winning side would be willing to accept it as conclusive, but when a question of this kind is at issue nothing is settled or decided where sentiment is so evenly divided. The prohibitionists have invariably refused to abide by the result when the adverse majority was small. The majority against prohibition was above 6000 in Texas, but the prohibitionists refuse to accept it as conclusive or even temporarily binding. They set up the cry of fraud and instituted a partisan investigation in the Legislature, which has a prohibition majority in both houses, but nothing was developed to support the charge of fraud. Nevertheless the prohibitionists refuse to abide by the referendum. They say the result of the election should be declared void because the liquor men contributed to the anti-prohibition campaign fund and that negroes and naturalized foreigners were permitted to vote. The Maine prohibitionists will probably take defeat quite as hard. They take the ground that they are right and the other side wrong, and that wrong should never be allowed to triumph. Unless they win the election they will not abide by it.

A Boston Reformer Indicted.

James J. Storrow, one of the heads of the so-called shoe machinery trust indicted in Massachusetts for violating the Sherman anti-trust law, was the reform candidate for Mayor at the last municipal election in Boston. Mr. Storrow is several times a millionaire, a mugwump in politics and a leader in all purity movements. He is one of the most persistent uplifters in Boston, and at the last municipal election was so disgusted with the way public affairs had been managed that he ran for Mayor himself. His campaign fund was the largest ever expended in a Boston election and the munificence of Mr. Storrow's public spirit is still spoken of with admiration by the ward strikers. Mr. Storrow was credited with spending over $100,000 to further his election. He was defeated, however, the benighted voters preferring to re-elect Mayor Fitzgerald, locally known as "Honey Fitz." Mr. Storrow has now been indicted as a member of the criminal rich. He is the largest stockowner in the United Shoe Machinery Company, which has a mortal cinch on the shoe industry in the United States and is charged with violating not only the anti-trust law, but the patent laws. Anyone who patents a new shoe-making device is slated for a heart-breaking fight in the courts if he does not sell it to the shoe machinery trust on its own terms. The manufacturer who attempts to defy the trust is assailed by injunction and damage suits till he agrees to sell out or surrender—or is ruined. Still Mr. Storrow is a great reformer.

Lorimer will hold his seat till Congress meets, but his prospects are not good thereafter. His friend Bailey of Texas is already packing up and the signs multiply that Lorimer will meet his cronies in the Senate next December only to say good-bye. Even his friends will not be sorry to see him go since his presence has become so troublesome. When friends get to be a bother they are not so welcome.

If we could only learn the size of the fee Colonel Astor paid to the clergyman who officiated at his marriage to Miss Force we could form an idea how much the ceremony cost the clerical conscience.

If an ass correctly symbolizes the Democratic party, the jawbone of an ass ought to symbolize Mr. Bryan.

If they do Lexow Philadelphia there will be muckraking indeed.

Jake Oppenheimer is the logical extreme of insurgency. He is not only dissatisfied with the courts and the administration of the laws, but he is opposed to the laws also. All authority irks his proud and independent spirit, and he manifests his antipathy to restraint by committing murder whenever opportunity offers.

Both sides claim the victory in the Canadian election, which takes place tomorrow, but the Liberals who are standing for reciprocity, claim it with much more confidence than the Conservatives. The Liberal managers claim they will have a majority of sixty-three in the next Parliament, while the Conservatives figure out they will have thirty-nine majority. By reducing the estimates on both sides by fifty per cent the result will probably be reached—a Liberal majority of thirty or more. In the United States considerable interest is taken in the election because of the bearing it will have on reciprocity. A Conservative victory would spell defeat for the reciprocity agreement that the American Congress ratified despite the opposition of the La Follette following.

BEULAH BINFORD

Out of the foul scandal of the Beulah Binford trial rises a most pathetic little figure—Beulah Binford, the "girl in the case." As the details have been disclosed, it is a most wretched story. And not a single circumstance is there that tends to condone the part which this slip of a girl played in the melodrama. At this time, she is entitled to nothing so much as human sympathy. Behind the girlish beauty, unaffected by the evil shadows of her "past," there lives a human soul, crying out for sympathy, for help. What is to become of Beulah Binford, the 17-year-old mistress of an alleged wife-slayer? Where is she to go? And what is she to do? Human nature has not yet attained that enlightened state which readily forgets the past, and thereby acts essentially to help an individual to begin life anew. Under the drastic terms of the accepted code of ethics, the Binford girl steps out of prison only to be shunned by the world. "Girl" that she is, and even pray for her, but where is she to turn to find that loving sympathy which, divinely inspired, leads to real help along the proverbial pathway of life? She herself asks where. "Girl" that she is, immoral and evil-minded as she was, she realizes now that she is a pariah in the community. Haldingly, she steps out of prison into the world again. Her better nature rises in revolt against the horrors of the past; she fights against the past and is eager to begin anew, "but," to quote her own words, "what other life is open to me now?" The pathetic figure of the girl calls for more than worthless pity; it demands human sympathy of a practical kind. It is an incident in the problem with which civilization has yet to deal—the problem of the banished of the human soul.—Philadelphia Times.

DOWN THE BANNISTER

A new idea has been developed in Kansas City, where in the excitement attending a bargain sale the impatient women slid down the bannisters to the floor where the slaughter was in progress. This is said to be a means of transportation far ahead of elevators, moving staircases and other ordinary devices. Naturally the managers of department stores, always eager to oblige and accommodate their women customers, will profit by the suggestion, and in future the stairways will be constructed on plans to facilitate the feminine descent. It is not related that the ladies volplaned to the scene of conflict head first, but it should be easy so to construct the banister as to make that method not merely practicable but graceful and secure. In these days of rapid transit, airships and 13-hour trains, the shopping woman should not be subjected to annoying delays and impediments in crowded department stores on bargain days. Very few people grow to manhood or womanhood without knowing the delights and convenience of the banister slide. It must be perfected to accord with the demands of mature years and the exigency of changing fashions in garments.—Chicago Examiner.

SERMONS IN BRIEF

THE CHURCH AND OUR GOVERNMENT.

(Rev. Alfred E. Street, pastor of Emmanuel Presbyterian Church.)

"Honor the King."—1 Peter 2:17.

It is quite common to hear people speak of our "Government" as though it is something distinct from the people as the King of England is distinct from his subjects. This is a fatal error. There is nothing at Washington that stands as ruler over a nation of subjects.

There are no subjects and there are no rulers in this land.

Every officer of every description in Washington is there by virtue of votes. The President is elected by the people. The House of Representatives is elected by the people. The Senate is appointed by those whom you elected. The Judges are elected and appointed by those you elected.

The same is true of state, county and city officials. There is not a policeman, councilman or mayor or any other one exercising authority who does not derive that authority from voters.

This makes it necessary to translate into modern terms the command to "Honor the King" and make it read, "Honor the voter." Voters are the only king recognized by our form of government. No voter need ever complain of any authorities, for it is he only who has made them and he only can unmake them.

What is a church, then? It is a society of kings formed to learn and follow the most perfect laws of personal conduct, including family and business government duties. It is the business of the church to study and set forth in the most emphatic manner the laws of every kind of moral and religious action.

There is no greater moral responsibility resting upon church members than their power as voters. It is the voter and not one else who determines whether or not we shall have law and order or lawlessness and anarchy. Each member is responsible in his place for every law, decision of the courts, or act of the police.

For any grown man in this country to stand helplessly complaining that things are not right in business, in the city hall, in the police court, in the Senate, in the Supreme Court, is a peculiar sight. It is exactly like a foolish fellow who has thrust his hand into the fire and then stands crying with the pain and complaining that things are all wrong. All he has to do is to pull his hand out of the fire. So all the complaining citizen of our land has to do is to vote and get others to vote until the evil is gone.

There are enough church-member voters in this country to constitute the balance of power. Therefore, the church is responsible for the continuance of those things which are unchristian, but which are sustained and protected by law. The tremendous fact remains that what is evil in our present laws has been given its power by the permission of Christian voters. Christian voters are as responsible at the judgment seat of God for their votes as for any other action of their lives. Vote according to the Bible.

ALONG BYWAYS

The great tariff puzzle continues to be how to take the wool schedule and put an "O" before the "K."—Washington Star.

Walter Earle, a Philadelphia Mayorality candidate, is running on the simple platform, "I don't believe in no favoritism, nohow." Walter's campaign ought to move at the rate of at least nine "nohows" an hour.—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

"Justifiable" being a perfectly correct word, is entitled to a place alongside of "innocuous desuetude."—Chicago Tribune. Better still, lean a stepladder up against "innocuous desuetude," making sure of the quantity in "desuetude," and then take "justifiable" up to the top between a pair of tongs, lean over and let it fall in.—Boston Globe.

HOW FLIES TRAVEL

One does not, I think, always realize the extreme mobility of the house fly. The other day I was in a train which was drawn up at a station on the P. L. M. line in France. There was a fly with me in the carriage and the window was open. Presently the Savoy express went by, its speed reduced for the moment to a crawl as it passed over the point of a junction. As the wagon-restaurant passed my carriage one of the cooks opened the window and put his head out. Instantly my fly left my carriage and flew into the Savoy express; the window was shut, and the train de luxe, with its long line of polished and glittering saloons of the International Sleeping Car Company went on its expensive way. The next stopping place, if I am not mistaken, would be Dijon; but the fly would probably still be lunching in the restaurant and would hardly alight there. A mouse or a bird or a beetle attempting to use this means of locomotion would have been observed at once and either killed or ignominiously ejected; not so the fly. It is extremely probable that the same evening he alighted at Geneva or conceivably went on via Modane into Italy. And wherever he chose to quit the train, whether in Switzerland or Italy, this fly, who had spent the morning before in Paris, would find himself equally at home. Without fares to pay or luggage to pack and with the briefest of toilets—standing on four legs and brushing the others together two at a time—he was ready to fly out and take possession of whatever part of the world he was in, to dine in the most fashionable restaurants or sleep in the most comfortable hotels, and the moment he felt bored, to take ship or train or horse or motor car or aeroplane and travel the world until he was ready to alight again.

To have this freedom is to have the real, kingship and possession of the earth.—Saturday Review.

FASHIONS IN LOVE CHANGE

Fashions are constantly changing in clothes for women, veering from the primly severe to the lavishly decorative. So, too, the fashions in love and proposal making change.

After a revival of the old-fashioned courteous styles of proposal youth has now gone back again to the curt, off-hand form of love making.

A London actor with a large number of social acquaintances voiced this interesting opinion.

He gave the following rough list, showing the "see-saw" fashions of real life proposals since 1850:

"1850—Proposing a most difficult matter. Girl hedged in by strict mother and father. Lovers had then to wait long for an opportunity to propose. Usually did so on bended knee, with many graceful and flowing sentences.

"1880—First signs of matter of fact proposal made their appearance. A well known bishop proposed to the lady of his choice over a chess table.

"1900—Romantic proposals practically dead. Etiquette of this time gave lover every opportunity to propose. Consequently made light of the event. Tea table and tennis proposals popular.

"1910—Revival of on-the-knee proposals, promoted, it is thought, by the large number of romantic plays running at the time.

"Present day—Proposals curter and more matter of fact than ever.

"I know a young man who proposed a few days ago on the back of a menu card," said the actor.

"He was seated at a restaurant with the lady he apparently loved, and during the course of the dinner nonchalantly reached out for a menu card and scribbled something on the back.

"He wrote: 'Will you marry me?' and passed it across the table to the girl and went on with his dinner."

20 YEARS AGO IN OAKLAND

Frank House, traveling agent for a sewing machine company, met with an accident on Cache creek, Yolo county, the other day. His horses went off the grade, overturning the wagon, smashing the machine and scattering bodkins, needles, belts, chains, cogs, bells, whistles and a boy in wild confusion.

A Woodland "Democrat" reporter and a doctor who were hunting doves near by, ran up and found that House had been thrown clear of everything and landed in a barbed-wire fence; where he was still hanging, and to rescue him was the first business of the hunters. House succeeded in extricating himself without aid. His head was pretty badly cut by the wires, but he was not seriously hurt. The Acme Club has decided to hold championship bicycle races at the Oakland Trotting Park on Thanksgiving Day. All the amateur bikers in the county will be invited to participate.

The progress and improvement of the city of Alameda has a useful, stimulating effect on Oakland, and we are glad to note the movement for the opening of Lincoln avenue through the choicest part of the east end of our prosperous municipal neighbor. It is a movement which should be pressed, because it will add so largely to the taxable values of the city, and in that way lighten the burden on the remainder.

HAIR HEALTH

If You Have Scalp or Hair Trouble, Take Advantage of This Offer.

We could not afford to so strongly endorse Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and continue to sell it as we do, if we were not certain that it would do all we claim it will. Should our enthusiasm carry us away, and Rexall "93" Hair Tonic not give entire satisfaction to the users they would lose faith in us and our statements and in consequence our business prestige would suffer.

Therefore, when we assure you that if your hair is beginning to unhealthily fall out, or if you have any scalp trouble, Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will promptly eradicate dandruff, stimulate hair growth and prevent premature baldness, you may rest assured that we know what we are talking about.

Out of one hundred test cases Rexall "93" Hair Tonic gave entire satisfaction in ninety-three cases. It has been proved that it will grow hair even on bald heads, when, of course, the baldness had not existed for so long a time that the follicles, which are the roots of the hair, had not become absolutely lifeless.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is vastly different from other similar preparations. We believe that it will do more than any other human agency toward restoring the hair growth and hair health. It is not greasy, and will not gum the scalp or hair, or cause permanent stain. It is as pleasant to use as pure cold water.

Our faith in Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is so strong that we ask you to try it on our positive guarantee that your money will be cheerfully refunded without question or quibble if it does not do as we claim. Certainly we can offer no stronger argument. It comes in two sizes, price 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain it only at The Owl Drug Company, Inc., Tenth and Washington; Thirteenth and Broadway and Sixteenth and San Pablo.

545 TRAINS DAILY AT OAKLAND MOLE

Southern Pacific Terminal Is Busy Place; 177,000 Every Year Is Record.

More than 177,000 passenger trains a year, making a string of 1,523,350 cars and locomotives, or a single train that would stretch more than half way around the world, is the annual record of the San Francisco bay terminals of the Southern Pacific company. However, this is by no means a great portion of the traffic of this company. A recent compilation of the train service of the three terminals on the bay, Oakland pier, Alameda pier and the Third and Townsend depot, in San Francisco, shows a daily total of 758 trains.

With the exception of a number of extra freight trains that are not run according to schedule, all of these trains can be found by a number designation or the time tables of the Southern Pacific company. Only 49 of these 758 trains carry freight, all others being strictly first-class passenger and mail trains.

The total number of trains departing from the Oakland pier every day is 269, twenty of which are freight trains. The total number of arrivals at this same terminal, twenty of which are freight, is 276. Twenty of the outbound trains are through passenger trains for northern, eastern and southern points, a corresponding number of passengers and mail points every day. Sixteen are local passenger trains, coming from and going to all points within a radius of 150 miles. Out of the Third and Townsend depot in San Francisco thirty-six trains, two of which are freight, depart each twenty-four hours. A corresponding number of passenger and freight trains arrive at the same station daily.

The remainder of this number of trains moving daily are suburban trains, out of all three stations. Seventy-two suburban trains depart and sixty-eight arrive every day at the Alameda pier. Two hundred and thirty-five suburban trains arrive at and 214 depart from the Oakland pier every day. The number of trains out of both of these piers every day there is a total of 685 trains.

How to Live Long--and Feel Young

Thousands of men and women who have passed their allotted "three-score-years-and-ten" owe their longevity to Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

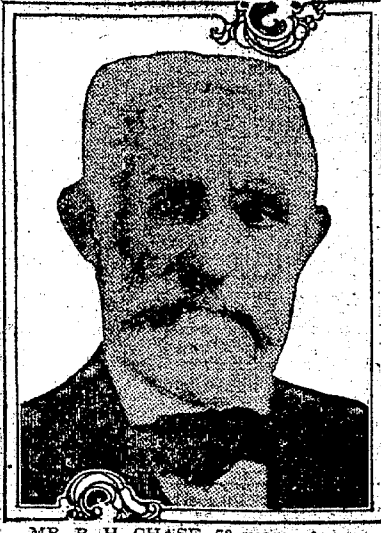

And with their advanced years has not come the doddering helplessness of old age, the spirit of youth has stayed with them.

At the Duffy Malt Whiskey Co.'s laboratories in Rochester, N. Y., there are files of letters from men and women of over seventy—many who have almost reached the century mark—who used Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey fifty years ago, and today in the sunset of their lives, they are still using it, still depending on it for the good it has done and is doing them.

One of more than passing interest is given here: "I have been a constant user of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for many years, and although I am now past 78 years of age and soon will reach my seventy-ninth birthday, I can reach most of the young men of today. My strength and activity and my ability to enjoy life are due to the use of your valuable whiskey. I am now negotiating with a view of starting a fruit farm in either Washington or Michigan, as I feel like a young man with all the world before me. There is one thing certain, I will always keep Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey with me, and I can conscientiously recommend it to all old people if they wish to keep young and vigorous."

R. H. CHASE, 7218 South Morgan street, Chicago, Ill.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is an absolutely pure medicinal malt whiskey distilled from especially selected ingredients under the watchful eyes

MR. R. H. CHASE, 78 years of age, of expert chemists and under the most hygienic conditions in the best equipped laboratories in the world.

It is a complete medicine chest of great value, for sudden illnesses of all kind it affords great relief and as a daily tonic—for body building, for a stimulant with no reaction—it stands supreme.

Sold in sealed bottles only by druggists, grocers and dealers, or direct, $1.00 a large bottle. Our doctors will send you advice free, together with a valuable illustrated medicinal booklet on application. The Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

FOWLER TO START EARLY TOMORROW

Aviator Will Make First Stop at Fallon, 152 Miles Away.

COLFAX, Sept. 20.—Fowler will leave Colfax at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning and will arrive at Fallon, Nevada, a distance of 152 miles by railroad, at about 3 in the evening. He expects to stop a couple of hours in Fallon to get lunch and refuel his gasoline tanks, when he will start for Winnemucca, about 125 miles further on his journey and stop for the night.

It is possible that this schedule will be upset by the late arrival of the fall, which may not arrive before 7 o'clock Thursday morning. The express company learned yesterday that it was not on train No. 2, due at 8:48 in the morning, and as No. 5, due at 2:30 tomorrow, is made up at Ogden, it cannot be on that. If it arrives Thursday morning—and it will probably be forced to—then it will take two hours to attach it and set the after rudder. Then a half hour of trial flying should let Fowler out of Colfax by 8:30, provided the machine is in good condition. This would make him due in Fallon about three hours later, and he should reach Winnemucca before 5 o'clock.

So the San Francisco aviator, who will resume his eastward air voyage from here, has set himself 274 miles for his first day's work after his Alaska accident. He does not intend to stop at Reno.

RODGERS DEAF TO PLEA.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Tortured by the persistent bad luck that appears to attend the three aviators who are trying for the $50,000 prize for an airship flight from coast to coast, the mother of Colfax, P. Rodgers, went to Middletown yesterday and tearfully pleaded with him to abandon the contest.

Mrs. Rodgers found her son superintending the rebuilding of his biplane, which was wrecked yesterday by collision with trees.

Rodgers was deeply affected by his mother's pleadings, but he announced his intention of resuming his flight as soon as his machine is in shape.

Earl L. Ovington has arrived from Boston, and announced that he expects to start this city for the Pacific September 27. He expects to use a monoplane.

TO TEACH AVIATION.

VALLEJO, Sept. 20.—A school of aerial navigation will be opened at the Mare Island navy yard, according to the present plans of the Navy Department. This course will be taken by every line officer, and it is expected that the school will be conducted by some of the best known aeronauts before the public today. The object of the school will be to promote the efficiency of the aeroplane as a scout in time of war.

AVIATOR KILLED.

DEWITT, Ia., Sept. 20.—John A. Rosenbaum of Chicago was killed here late yesterday when his aeroplane fell from a height of 50 feet. He was flying in the air only twenty minutes when he lost control of the machine.

GOOSE INJURED.

ODENSEBURG, N. Y., Sept. 20.—Eugene Gode, an aviator, fell from a height of sixty feet and was severely injured yesterday. Both his legs were badly twisted, one ankle broken, a shoulder broken and his head painfully gashed. The accident was due to the motor stopping. The biplane was demolished.

IOWA TO BE USED FOR TARGET PRACTICE

VALLEJO, Sept. 20.—Although no definite date has been fixed when the Pacific fleet will be doubled by the addition of the cruisers Washington, Tennessee, Montana and North Carolina, the Navy Department and the Mare Island officials are quietly preparing for the reception of the visitors to Western waters.

Word comes from Washington that the Navy Department will have an augmented fleet in the Pacific station this winter and that an innovation in target practice will be introduced shortly after the war maneuvers off the Hawaiian coast are completed. The old and useless battleship Iowa, now an unimportant member of the reserve Atlantic fleet, is to be sent around the Horn and will act as a target for the cruiser guns in much the same manner as the San Marcos or old Texas served for the dreadnoughts on the Eastern coast.

KENNETT BARS POKER.

KENNETT, Sept. 20.—Drawing poker is still unlawful in Kennett, and saloons must continue to close at midnight. The saloon keepers unanimously petitioned the trustees asking them to permit poker and to allow the saloons to remain open all night. By a vote of 4 to 1 the trustees have rejected the petition.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS

GABY TO AWAIT COMING OF 'THE' MAN

Divine Passion Will Seize Her Some Day, She Declares.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Thus says Gaby Deslys at her gabbiet:

You want me to tell you how I love—and how I want to keep it. Ah, that depends on so little a thing as love itself and almost entirely upon the woman. It may last it may soon die, but any woman who has won the love of a man can keep it as long as she chooses—if she retains the same, sweet, unselfish spirit that made the man choose her for his heart's desire.

"But most women are too impatient—too selfish—and soon forget the wiles that captured and captivated the man. That's why love flies, because the woman so soon forgets."

Gaby was talking love—and she adores the subject, she says, like all women of her country.

"I believe in love marriages," she said, "and I hope some day I may fall madly in love, and then of course I shall marry. But if I married I would not care what manner of man he was—he could be rich or poor, ugly or Apollo-like, anything—I am sure I would not care, and I would marry him, but it would be a marriage for all time."

"When Gaby Deslys marries she will never divorce—she will remain forever married; that is how sacred I hold marriage. But why should I marry for mere convenience?"

"How shall I tell you how to win the love of a man? I don't know, for I am only one woman, but personally I think no man cares to have a woman smoke or drink. I do not like to see a woman on the lips of his cigarette smoke, it makes her nails discolored and her clothes hold the smoke. It is unbecomingly and it is unbecomingly. Women should smile, like angels, and only drink water, never liquors. They age a woman and spoil looks and digestion."

Robes Seized

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—United States customs officials yesterday seized the baggage of Mrs. Grace Noble of Berkeley, who, it is charged, failed to declare $339 worth of gowns on her arrival from Europe Saturday.

The contents of her baggage, which consisted mainly of wearing apparel, were appraised at $372. In order to obtain its release, Mrs. Noble will have to pay $307, which includes penalties.

The customs inspectors, it is said, found that many of Mrs. Noble's effects were in the way of a trunk belonging to Mrs. Louise Mitchell Rodgers, also of San Francisco, and wife of a captain in the revenue cutter service.

Mrs. Noble said this arrangement had been made because of lack of room in her own trunk for all her property, and that there had been no intention to defraud the government.

Would Free Her

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Stipulating that his young wife, Louise White Lawrence Snydam, should first enter into an agreement to marry Frederick Noble, the plumber's son, with whom she recently ran away from her home in Blue Point, L. I., Walter Lisperard Snydam Jr. offered yesterday to free her by suing for divorce.

Snydam, his millionaire father and a lawyer called upon the young woman at the flat where she and Noble have been living, and made the stipulation as an alternative to never having a divorce suit begun. The divorce demanded that the agreement be signed by Noble.

Previous to their arrival, Mrs. Snydam complained of her husband's delay in starting the divorce proceedings. She said she had no intention of going back to him and wanted a divorce immediately.

Young Snydam had hoped for a reconciliation, but, finding it hopeless, began to consider the divorce situation. His one thought, he announced, was that the future of his wife should be provided for. His attorney suggested the marriage contract, which appeared to Snydam and his family, inasmuch as it would provide for the future of the girl, and the divorce proceedings were actually begun.

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—Strikes, direct from Paris, accompanied by a number of unusually pretty live models, were shown at the dressmakers' convention at the Illinois Theater yesterday. They provide for a corsetless, hipless, skirtless girl, with no rats or padding in the skirts and high-heeled shoes.

There seems to be no provision for fat women. They are left entirely out of the season's styles and are privileged to wear corsets. The women of fashion, however, must be slender and willowy. In place of corsets and skirts there is a close-fitting one-piece suit of knitted silk. This conforms to the body at every point, and over this is slipped the dress, which is wheelbarrow skirts, clinging underlining and dress combined, and is hooked into place in the back or at the side. It is split almost to the knees, but the opening is concealed by darts and folds. This permits free walking.

Mother Kills Two

CANON CITY, Colo., Sept. 20.—Mrs. D. W. Garrett, 44 years old and the wife of a ranchman, yesterday shot and killed her 6-year-old son, D. W. Garrett Jr., her 4-year-old daughter, Juanita, and then turned the gun on herself. All three died instantly. The tragedy was discovered by the husband this afternoon when he returned home from his ranch.

Garrett had been under medical care for some time because of a nervous trouble and is believed to have become suddenly insane.

Besides the husband nine children survive.

Pace Too Fast

SAN JOSE, Sept. 20.—Her own testimony and that of A. J. Cody, a private detective she employed to trail her husband and his various activities in his illicit career through Washington and California, won for Eva Belle Becar, in the Superior Court yesterday afternoon, an interlocutory decree of divorce from her husband, N. J. Joseph Becar. The property rights had been settled out of court, and it is understood that Mrs. Becar got $40,000 from the $100,000 estate.

These Are Millinery Days

And Our Magnificent Millinery Salon Is Now Showing All That Is Newest and Best In Autumn Hats at Prices You Can Easily Afford

Do you want a hat that will be the envy of your friends? You will find it in our Millinery Department—The Home of the most beautiful Hats in town. And you will find it at a price that will delight you almost as much as the hat. This store long ago dispelled the illusion that it was necessary to pay extravagant prices for beautiful millinery.

—The Hats from Paris came from the same artists that design the headwear of Royalty and the Fashion Queens of Europe, and they are the most charming hats that Paris has sent over in many a season.

—The New York Hats are exact replicas of those now being shown by the exclusive shops that cater to the smartest dressers of that metropolis.

—The visions of loveliness that have been dreamed out in our own workrooms are simply entrancing, and you won't surprise us in the least if you prefer them to the hats from Paris and New York.

—In the collection you will find hats suitable for every occasion—for every style of costume—for every figure—for every face—for every purse.

ROUSING CHEERS GREETED ROLPH

The Mayoralty Candidate Addresses Irish-American Organization.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—No more thoroughly responsive meeting has greeted James Rolph, Jr., since he entered the campaign than that of his friends of the Irish race who last night filled the Valencia theater in his honor. The gathering was held under the auspices of the Irish-American Rolph club, organized and fathered by well known Irish-American citizens.

He was escorted down the aisle between masses of cheering men and women, and when he mounted to the stage the large audience rose to its feet and shouted his name again and again.

On the platform were seated fifty of the leading members of the Irish-American Rolph club, who greeted their candidate warmly while two little girls, Dorothy Lynch and Mary McGoldrick, came forward and presented bouquets of carnations.

Before his arrival the audience had been told of James Rolph's pledges to the club—to the effect that he would be favored or discriminated against during his administration. And he repeated again that as mayor he would give a square deal to all the city and its people.

George A. Connolly, president of the Irish-American Rolph club, presided and explained the purposes of the organization, which he heads.

her husband inherited from his grandfather.

The name of her husband's present affinity was not disclosed. It was shown that the two are still residing in apartments in San Francisco as husband and wife. It was also shown that Becar still continues in a state of habitual intoxication and spends large sums of money daily in the purchase of intoxicating liquors.

Obtains Divorce

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 20.—After having journeyed through a half century of married life with Mary B. Babcock, George Babcock, a local poultry fancier and former San Franciscoan, obtained a divorce yesterday. Fifty-one years ago the Babcocks were married in San Francisco. Several times Mrs. Babcock left the family home, but she left for good before the 1906 fire.

Babcock has established a ranch at Walsh station and is said to be contemplating another matrimonial journey.

Leters Win Bride

SALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 20.—After being courted for two years through what she calls a "correspondence course" by a man on the other side of the continent and after being engaged five days, Miss Dacia D. Bancroft, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth and the late John T. Bailey of this city, became the bride of Wallace Royce of San Francisco today at the home of the bride. The couple will leave after the ceremony for a trip through Canada, reaching San Francisco, where they will make their home, November 1.

POISONED ARROW SLAYS CHURCHMAN

Missionary Victim of Brazilian Natives and Their Wrath.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Dr. Henry B. Crampton, head of the department of invertebrate zoology at the American Museum of Natural History and one of the professors of biology at Columbia University, who has been exploring the region about the headwaters of the Amazon for the museum, arrived yesterday on the steamship Copennane of the Royal Dutch West India line from Georgetown. Professor Crampton brought what details are known by white men of the murder of Dr. Crampton by a native missionary, who was killed by natives in Northern Brazil.

It was Professor Crampton who discovered the murder and notified the authorities at Georgetown, British Guiana. Dr. Crampton was on his way to Mount Roraima and stopped at a village, a mere collection of Indian huts, called Kamairi Wong, in Brazil. Jeremiah, the chief of the village, showed him every courtesy, but would not permit him to enter a certain hut. It was not until the explorer had reached the town of Tumatumari in British Guiana that the Indians of his party told him of seeing the clothing of a white man in a native hut, which they learned had belonged to a missionary who had come into the village and taught the people that plural marriages were wrong.

This they said incensed the members of Jeremiah's tribe, and the missionary was hit with a poisoned arrow, and as he lay on the ground, someone cut his throat. His body was buried under the earthen floor of the chief's hut, and the chief kept his clothing.

UNDERTAKER SLAIN BY NEVADA DOCTOR

MASON, Nev., Sept. 20.—William J. Otter, undertaker and furniture dealer, was shot and instantly killed here yesterday by Dr. W. T. Elkner, formerly of Los Angeles. Elkner conducts a sanitarium.

The tragedy occurred shortly after Otter emerged from the dining-room of a hotel. He was met by Elkner and after the two had conversed for several seconds the latter drew his revolver and emptied the weapon into the body of Otter. No reason is assigned for the act.

RICHMOND ELKS' LODGE INSTITUTED

Hundreds in Attendance When New Branch of Order Is Formed.

RICHMOND, Sept. 20.—Richmond lodge No. 1251, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, was instituted here last night in the presence of several hundred Elks from the various lodges about the bay. The visitors arrived here in the evening and after the regular work of installation an elaborate banquet was served.

Twenty-five charter members form the new lodge, those new Elks being the following: Dr. C. L. Abbott, A. C. Lang, C. J. Rihn, H. C. Biggs, Frank W. Smith, Fred C. Schram, A. H. Bernatt, E. W. O'Brien, M. V. Keltz, H. E. French, J. A. Bell, R. Baughman, D. L. Carpenter, J. J. Grant, Charles Dalton, C. F. King, W. A. Leslie, N. R. Jackson, E. H. Truax, J. W. McElbourne, J. W. Switzer, John Purgas, H. L. Rutley, Orin Sawyer, J. R. Froberg, Oliver Wylie, B. E. Farris, W. E. Hansen and James Lowrey.

They formed a reception committee to greet the Elks from other cities and preceded by the Eighth Regiment band of San Francisco, a parade of the visitors through the streets and to Fraternal hall on the West side was formed.

INSTALL OFFICERS.

Arriving at the hall the meeting was called to order by the officers of Berkeley lodge No. 1002 and after the formalities had concluded, the chairs were rearranged for the grand officers, and the work of installation of the officers into the Richmond lodge was taken in hand. The grand officers consisted of the following: District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler Dr. F. J. S. Conlon of San Francisco, Grand Exalted Ruler, Grand Exalted Lecturer, Knight, J. S. Engen, Grand Exalted Chaplain, J. H. Harbour of San Francisco lodge No. 3, Grand Secretary H. A. Sully and Grand Exalted J. H. Wheeler of Berkeley lodge No. 1002.

The officers for the new lodge had been chosen as follows: Exalted ruler, Dr. C. L. Abbott; esteemed leading knight, A. C. Lang; esteemed loyal knight, C. J. Rihn; esteemed lecture knight, H. B. Biggs; secretary, Frank W. Smith; treasurer, Fred C. Schram; grand exalted chaplain, H. E. French; chaplain, R. Baughman; trustees, A. H. Bernatt, Dr. E. W. O'Brien and William Keltz.

ADDRESSES MADE.

Following the regular initiatory ceremonies addresses were made by Mayor J. C. Owens, Dr. C. L. Abbott, A. C. Lang and E. L. Faber of Berkeley. Their remarks were along the lines of Elksdom. The banquet was then served, when some 400 Elks were seated at the tables, followed at 11 o'clock by the regular toast of that hour, delivered by W. H. Hynes of Berkeley.

BIG SUM RESULTS FROM 'FOLLIES OF 1911'

HILLSBOROUGH, Sept. 20.—The proceeds of the garden fete and "Follies of 1911" for the benefit of the hillside orphanage which have been collected to date amount to $7000 gross. About $3000 still is to be received. This latter amount probably will cover the expenses, although the bills have not yet been audited completely by the committee, consisting of Mrs. Mountford Wilson, Mrs. A. I. Stone, Mrs. Walter Martin, Mrs. Laurence I. Scott and Miss Jennie Crocker.

LATEST NEWS FROM OUTSIDE TOWNS

MAKES PLEA FOR EQUAL SUFFRAGE

J. S. Cato Speaks at Big Mass Meeting Held in Pleasanton Hall.

PLEASANTON, Sept. 20.—A mass meeting was held here last night in the interest of the amendments to be voted on in October. J. S. Cato spoke at length on the initiative, referendum and recall, closing with an eloquent plea for equal suffrage.

Mrs. Mary B. Flisk, wife of Colonel Flisk of New York, and president of the Brown Women's Equal Suffrage League, also spoke in support of the ballot privilege regardless of sex lines. The gathering was largely attended.

The meeting was under the auspices of the following prominent Pleasanton people: Dr. S. J. Wells, E. L. Benedict, A. W. Warner and their daughter, Margaret, of Hillside avenue, leave for the east next week.

Piedmont Notes

PLEASANTON, Sept. 20.—Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Warner and their daughter, Margaret, of Hillside avenue, leave for the east next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Phelps of Hillside avenue will start on Friday week for a trip around the world. They will go on the steamer Cleveland and expect to be gone about four months.

Mrs. Melville Tenney of Bonita avenue on Monday entertained the Misses Baldwin, who are on their way as missionaries to the Micronesia islands, a group of the South Sea islands.

Dr. and Mrs. Murray Johnson of Hillside avenue will entertain the Piedmont Musical club at its next meeting, October 3.

Mr. Melville Tenney departed for the east Saturday. He expects to visit Portland and Seattle on his way and will be absent about one month.

John McMullen and his sister, Ella, of Linda Vista, will start east on Friday. After a short visit in the east John McMullen will go on to Paris to study architecture.

SAN LEANDRO HAS THE YOUNGEST FREE MASON

SAN LEANDRO, Sept. 20.—San Leandro claims to have the youngest Free and Accepted Mason in this country. At the last meeting of Eden lodge, Otto Jorgensen, 21 years of age, was initiated into the order on his birthday and ten days later was raised.

The Jorgensen family is prominent in the fraternity, several members holding high office. The young candidate became a Full Master Mason under the coaching of William F. Cunningham, worshipful master of Eden lodge.

SCOUTS OF HAYWARD TO CAMP IN HILLS

HAYWARD, Sept. 20.—The local Boy Scouts will go into the hills next Friday and camp out over night. Saturday scout maneuvers will be the order of the day. Each scout will have his blankets and rations for three meals, cooked or uncooked.

PORTUGUESE UNION ELECTS OFFICIALS

Reception Held in Pleasanton Opera House Last Night.

PLEASANTON, Sept. 20.—The most important business attended to today at the third session of the annual convention of the United Portuguese Union of California was the election of officers for the ensuing year. Following is the result: President, Isabel K. Pimentel, Oakland; vice-president, Maria Simas, Hayward; secretary, Adelaide Fonseca, Oakland; treasurer, Maria C. L. Soares, Oakland; mistress of ceremonies, Maria Dias, Oakland; marshal, Maria Libiao, Hollister; inside guard, Maria M. Souza, Pleasanton.

The directors elected are G. Braga, San Leandro; T. Rodrigues, Oakland; M. Nicholas, Oakland; L. Mattos, San Rafael; M. Smith, Hayward; L. Simas, Oakland; M. Azevedo, Oakland. Medical examiner, Dr. J. B. DeFaria, Oakland.

GRAND RECEPTION.

A grand reception, opened with the official hymn of the organization, was held last night in the Nevis opera house. Mayor Charles Schween delivered an address of welcome to the ladies of the order and presented the grand president, Mrs. J. K. Pimentel, with the keys of the town. Among the other speakers were Dr. A. Cope, Grand Treasurer Mrs. Soares and J. F. Silva, the latter speaking in Portuguese.

A number of songs were rendered by members of the order, the evening closing with a banquet at which T. Silva presided as toastmaster.

Tomorrow the convention will close with a business session and a public installation of officers in the opera house.

LAST TRIBUTE PAID TO MISS FURTADO

Funeral of San Leandro Girl Is Held From Chapel of St. Leander's.

SAN LEANDRO, Sept. 20.—The funeral of the late Miss Mabel Furtado, whose untimely death occurred in Los Gatos last Sunday, was observed this morning with a requiem high mass at St. Leander's Catholic church. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. Father Garvey. Interment took place at St. Joseph's cemetery, Hayward. Many floral offerings were received by the family of the deceased and the funeral was largely attended.

Miss Furtado was one of the most popular girls of the younger set here and the following prominent local people who were elected queen of the cherry carnival last spring. It was a chill contracted during the festivities and from which she never fully recovered that resulted in her death in her eighteenth year.

Mr. Sequero, formerly of Hayward, was a week-end visitor here.

BITTEN BY MONSTER; PUMP SAVES LIFE

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20.—Prompt treatment with a vacuum pump saved the life yesterday of Mathias Eigenshner, a miner from Arizona, who was bitten by a gila monster while he was exhibiting the animal to friends on the street.

Eigenshner arrived in Los Angeles with the monster secured in a cage. He and some friends tried to open the box to show them the animal. The gila sank its fangs into his hands and in a few moments the man became delirious from fright. Eigenshner was rushed to the receiving hospital, where the surgeon with a vacuum pump succeeded in extracting the poison from the wounds.

SUIT INSTITUTED ON INSURANCE POLICIES

Suit was instituted in the Superior Court late yesterday afternoon by Manuel and Mary Gordo against Caroline Dias, the Grand Lodge of the Uniao Portuguesa, Balneario de California, and the Grand Lodge of the Irmandade do Divino Espirito Santo for $1500, alleged to be due on insurance policies. Complaint alleges that Caroline Dias, sister of Mrs. Gordo, induced John F. Abreu, her father, to take out a life insurance policy on insurance policies in the two defendant concerns so that Mrs. Dias will get $1500 of $2000, whereas she should only get $500.

WILL NOT CHANGE HIS PASTORATE

Rev. Calfee Will Remain in Charge of Church in Richmond.

RICHMOND, Sept. 20.—Rev. D. W. Calfee, for the past seven years, a pastor in the Methodist church in Richmond, for five years at the head of the First Methodist church, and for the past two years of the Wesleyan congregation, will remain in charge of the latter church. This is the announcement made from Pacific City, where Calfee is now being held at Pacific Grove and comes as a matter of sincere satisfaction to the Wesleyan congregation here. Plans are under way for a reception to be given to Rev. Calfee on his return from the conference.

The pulpit of the First church will be filled by a new man, Rev. David Ralston, who has been in charge of the South San Francisco church for the past year. Rev. Mr. Ralston is a graduate of the University of the Pacific and of the Theological Seminary, where he spent three years. His new pulpit on both morning and afternoon next Sunday.

SANITARY DISTRICT ELECTION CARRIES

Only Half the Voters of Hayward Turn Out at the Polls.

HAYWARD, Sept. 20.—The election for creating a sanitary district of the section comprising a portion of the Potrero hill boulevard, the Homestead tract and the Meek tract, has been carried with a vote of eight to one. Only half the voters in the section turned out to cast their ballots.

A board of directors was elected to conduct the affairs of the new sanitary district. The body will inquire into the most feasible method of carrying out the installation of a sewerage system, and in conjunction with County Surveyor Haviland will make an estimate of the cost. Those on the board are Henry Kies, A. R. Jones, Franklin Griffith, Henry Jorgensen and T. J. Maynard. The latter will act as clerk of the board.

A bond election will be called when the cost of the undertaking has been learned.

CATO TO TALK ON SUFFRAGE TOPICS

Irvington Audience Will Hear Address On Woman's Rights.

IRVINGTON, Sept. 20.—J. S. Cato will address a mass meeting in support of equal suffrage at a time tomorrow evening. Suffrage workers of Warm Springs and Mission San Jose are co-operating with the local "woman's rights" advocates to assure the success of the rally.

The gathering will be under the auspices of the Oakland Suffrage Amendment League. Professor William Walker has been chosen chairman for the evening and the following prominent local people will act as vice-presidents: Mrs. J. A. Lory, Miss M. Horner, Mrs. T. D. Wetherby, Mrs. Ester Babb, Mrs. H. Curner, Mrs. Lida Babb, Mr. J. E. Wamsley, Mr. O. N. Hirsch, Dr. J. H. Durham, Dr. C. A. Lutz, Thomas J. Power.

HENEY IS BRANDED LIAR BY SONNTAG

Prison Director Denies That He Carried Secrets to T. L. Ford.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—"If Henevy can prove that I ever gave any information of any kind to Thos. L. Ford, he is any one else connected with the United Railroads, or that I ever wrote to or communicated in any way with any one connected with that company, either directly or indirectly, regarding that grand prosecution while I was a member of the Oliver grand jury, I will give $1000 to charity, but I will require that Henevy shall do the same if he fails to substantiate his charges. I will leave the decision to any committee or set of honorable men."

Sonntag's answer given yesterday by Prison Director Charles Sonntag to the statement made by Francis J. Henevy Monday night in the course of a political speech in Sacramento to the effect that Sonntag had carried grand jury secrets to Ford while the "graft investigations" and grand prosecutions were in progress, and that he had received his appointment from the then Governor, Gillett, as a member of the grand jury to return the Rufus Tucker verdict, was that he never sold his vote to Abe Ruef and William F. Herrin at the Santa Cruz convention.

"I don't know what his gotten into this man that he cannot and will not tell the truth," declared Sonntag. "He is utterly irresponsible. As to his charges, they are entirely without foundation. It seems to me that he should be in an insane asylum."

"The only time I ever spoke to General Ford from the time I was impeached as a member of the grand jury until his work was completed was one day when he met him in the anteroom of the grand jury and shook hands with him."

"Nobody ever asked me to vote for Gillett at the Santa Cruz convention, and I never voted for him. I never sold his vote to Abe Ruef and William F. Herrin at the Santa Cruz convention."

MANY SUBJECTS ARE DISCUSSED BY GROCERS

STOCKTON, Cal., Sept. 20.—Various subjects of interest to the Stockton Grocers' association were discussed last night at the business meeting of the association, which was held here among the plans urged being inter-Insurance for the retailer, the disapproval of the house to house canvassing system, the necessity for all manufacturers labelling their wares, and the necessity for co-operation as an organization in all matters pertaining to the industry.

The convention ended tonight, the visiting delegates being the guests at a banquet given by the Stockton members.

WOMEN AT NEWPORT DISCARD FACE POWDER

"During my summer's stay at Newport," writes Mae Martyn, "I was greatly interested in the unusually charming complexions of the women. I soon found that these fortunate possessors of perfect complexions no longer use powder, since it clogs up the skin pores and causes blackheads, wrinkles, etc. Instead they use a lotion, made by dissolving 4 ounces of spumax in either ½ pint hot water or ½ pint witch hazel, adding 2 tea-spoonsful glycerine. Where which hazel is used the lotion dries more quickly."

"This splendid lotion clears and whitens the skin, making it smooth, soft and velvety. It removes that shabby, yellow look and does not show or rub off like powder. It is far superior to face powder, and a permanent skin beautifier."

A Contest Open to Everybody Who Lives in Alameda County

HOW TO EARN THIS MONEY

The President of the United States will be with us on Friday, October 13th.

He will lay the cornerstone of Oakland's magnificent City Hall.

Probably 100,000 people will be gathered around Mr. Taft during the ceremony.

Flags and decorations will be freely used all over the city; the scene will be one of unique significance and especial gaiety.

The background for this great picture will be the east side of our big, new store which will be appropriately decorated.

But we want something that will stand out—something that will impress the President and the tens of thousands of his hosts on that occasion.

It is our intention to have forming part of our decorations a banner bearing some phrase or sentence not exceeding ten words.

This sentence must be of such a nature that it will burn itself into the permanent memory of all who see it.

It must carry this idea: that Oakland is the fastest-growing and most progressive city on the Pacific Coast, and that there is a wide significance in the laying of the cornerstone of our grand City Hall by the President of the United States.

Catch the idea?

Then put it into a phrase or sentence of not more than ten words and mail it or bring it to the H. C. Capwell Company's store.

A committee of representative newspaper men will decide which is the best inscription for the banner and the writer will win the award of $25 in gold.

Contest closes Saturday Night, Oct. 7th

TO TOUR WORLD IN GREAT AIRSHIP

Inventor Murray Plans to Take Passengers On a Long Trip.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—Out on the Ingleside racetrack inclosure about sixty men have been working for more than a year on an airship, under the direction of Willis Grant Murray, inventor and engineer. If this airship works out in reality as it has on paper, the world will see the first safe, commercial venture in aerial navigation.

The air craft can be used as a scout ship, or in the time of war, carrying guns and traveling six days and nights without landing and will be able to rise to a height of 11,000 feet. After getting his ship together Murray expects to take ten passengers and his crew of five men and sail across the world as securely as though he were in a boat or in a train. There will be staterooms for the passengers and all the comforts of travel on a Pullman.

The inventor and the men backing him hope to get the aerial concessions for the 1915 fair, but as yet it is nearly all theory, although considerable work has been done.

L. OF C. C. BAND GIVES CONCERT

Popular Musical Organization Plays for Charity This Evening.

The League of the Cross Cadets' band of forty-five pieces will give a concert tonight at St. Mary's college gymnasium for the benefit of the Sisters of St. Joseph, a home for the deaf and dumb. After the concert the cadets will play for the dancing.

Many of the various Catholic organizations in the city have been working hard for the success of the entertainment, and as nearly all of the 2000 tickets have been sold, a large attendance is looked for.

The committee in charge of the affair is composed of James Gallagher, George M. Carter, Miss M. Blanche Steele, Mrs. D. Allen, Leo J. McCarthy, Frank McCarty and others.

OHIO SAVINGS BANK CLOSED BY EXAMINERS

COLUMBUS, Sept. 20.—Bank Examiner Charles R. Dodge closed today the Orangeville Savings Bank of Orangeville, Ohio, because of the fact that the bank had closed its doors and its business would mean greater loss to its depositors. The bank had $100,000 in deposits.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—Announcement of the engagement of Miss Alice Ruthford Runnels, daughter of George S. Runnels, president of the Pullman company, and William James of Cambridge, Mass., son of the late Professor William James of Harvard university, is made by Mr. and Mrs. Runnels.

Equal Suffrage

—so far as the ballot is concerned is the subject of much honest difference of opinion.

There can be no difference of opinion regarding women's property rights or her right to save as much as she pleases.

We have hundreds of women's accounts, and we seek more. Have we yours?

We pay 4 per cent interest.

HEART--TRIBUNE'S PAGE FOR WOMEN--HOME

SOCIETY

THE engagement of Miss Ida Grossmayer to Jesse Baker Knowles was announced this afternoon at a beautifully appointed tea given by the bride-elect at her home in Orange street. The spacious rooms were crowded with the many friends of the charming bride-elect, who informally told of her engagement to the prominent clubman. In the drawing room and hall potted palms and ferns formed the decorations and in the dining room tiger lilies were arranged in large clusters. The effective color scheme of pink and green was carried out in the decorations throughout the spacious home.

Miss Grossmayer looked beautiful in an Empire gown of pale blue messaline with over which a robe of chiffon and rare old lace was fashioned. She wore a corsage bouquet of orchids and an exquisite necklace of diamonds and sapphires which was a gift of her fiancé.

Mrs. Grossmayer wore an imported costume of black and white silk crepe de chine over satin. Miss Ruth Grossmayer was gowned in pale blue and white silk tissue made over blue messaline. Mrs. Frank E. Horton looked stunning in a gown of black lace elaborated with touches of gold. Miss Isabel Schuchman wore a dainty Parisian gown of white silk elaborately embroidered. Miss Gertrude Mills was becomingly attired in corn-colored messaline, and Mrs. Harry Winttingham wore pink chiffon over messaline of the same delicate hue. Miss Vera Jones was prettily gowned in pink chiffon trimmed with a silver fringe, and Mrs. Weare Little, who was a bride of last season, wore a modish gown of king be moose elaborated with lace trimmings. Others in the receiving party who were beautifully gowned were Miss Harriet Game, the pretty fiancée of Harold Watkins; Mrs. A. E. Montgomery and Miss Marian M.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. M. H. Grossmayer and comes of one of the well-known families in the bay region. Their hospitable home in Orange street furnishes an ideal setting for entertaining and the charming bride-elect presides over many delightful affairs. Already numerous social gatherings are being planned in her honor, and she will be one of the much feted girls of this season. The wedding will be an event of the near future. The charming bride-elect has extensive land interests in this city and is highly esteemed in business as well as club circles.

BRIDGE HOSTESS.
In honor of Miss Hazel Cox, a charming Eastern visitor, who is a guest at the J. E. Farnum home, Mrs. Frederick Farnum will entertain at bridge on the 28th. The game of cards will be followed by an informal tea. This gathering will bring together a group of interesting members of the younger exclusive set. Prior to her marriage Mrs. Farnum was Miss Alice Albright, one of the most popular girls of local society.

INTERESTING TEA.
Mrs. Thomas Henry Nichols has sent out cards for the afternoon of October 3 when she will entertain at one of the largest teas of the coming month. The Nichols home in Claremont is most hospitable and the approaching festivity will no doubt be delightful in every way.

EASTERN VISITOR.
Mrs. John Potter Littlefield has come from Washington, D. C., to spend a few weeks with her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Eudey, at the home of the latter in Linda Vista terrace. Mrs. Littlefield will be remembered as Miss Bertina Eudey and was a bride of a season or two ago. Her visit will no doubt be made the occasion for a series of affairs. She will remain with her mother for several months, and will be joined later in the season by her husband, who will also be a guest at the Eudey home.

OCTOBER WEDDING.
Miss Helen Hobson has set October 11 as the date for her wedding with Edwin Austin Jones. The ceremony is to be simply appointed and attended only by relatives and friends of the young couple.

WILL WED TONIGHT.
Charles Melville Cadman, a young business man of Oakland, will claim as his bride this evening Miss Mae Bevan, daughter of E. J. Bevan of Alameda. The wedding will take place at the bride's home, and will be quite simply planned, neither bride nor groom to be attended. Miss Bevan is a graduate of the University of California and is popular in college and church circles. Cadman is well known in fraternal and business circles. After a brief honeymoon the couple will reside in Alameda.

CARD PARTY.
Mrs. E. Joseph Cowing will be a bridge hostess of next Wednesday afternoon at her home in Piedmont, entertaining in compliment to Mrs. George Brannhall, Miss Mary Engelhardt and Miss Anne Engelhardt, who have recently returned from abroad. The affair will bring together a number of friends of the honored guests, who will welcome home the travelers.

RETURNS FROM SUNOL.
Mrs. George Ryno and her mother, Mrs. Henry Chamberlain, have returned from an outing of several months, spent at Sunol, where they had an ideally situated camp. Mrs. Ryno is a prominent member of the West Oakland home and will take an active interest in the doll show to be given by that institution late in November.

SMART AFFAIR.
Mrs. T. W. Leydecker will entertain at a tea on September 28 at her home in Alameda in honor of Mrs. Joseph Russell Knowland and her mother, Mrs. West.

INFORMAL DANCE.
Mrs. J. H. Mallett and her daughters, Miss Florence Mallett and Miss Maude Mallett, will entertain a score or more of the younger set at their new home on Warring Street, on Saturday evening. The affair will be in the nature of a house warming and an informal dance is planned as the diversion of the evening.

MUSICAL CLUB.
A newly organized musical society, the Genss Club, will hold its first regular meeting at the home of Miss Myrtle and Miss Hazel Wood in Piedmont. They expect to have a membership of fifty. Miss Mildred Turner is the club's president; Miss Hazel Wood vice-president, and Miss Ruth Searies financial secretary.

The charter members include: Miss Mildred Turner, Miss Elizabeth Price, Miss Hazel and Miss Myrtle Wood, Miss Seta Stewart, Miss Laura Lundegaard, Miss Sullivan, Miss Searies, Charles Burdett and Harold Genss, a son of Prof. Herman Genss.

ST. LEO'S PARISH FAIR.
Vocal selections from "The Burgomaster" will be presented tonight at St. Leo's Hall in Piedmont, by Miss Josephine Ryan.

Miss Eva Garcia will be the accompanist of the evening. Reunions by Fitzsimmons will also be a feature and a group of songs will be sung by Miss Nellie McIsaac. The program will attract a large number to the fair now being held for the benefit of St. Leo's parish in Piedmont.

SATURDAY'S PAGEANT.
Society is looking forward eagerly to the pageant which is to be held in Piedmont Park on Saturday, and which promises to be one of the most picturesque and interesting affairs ever presented on this side of the bay. Dozens of the most prominent members of the most exclusive set and ever so many of the local college girls will participate. They will appear in costumes especially designed. There will be excellent music and attractions for the little folk, as well as for the grown-ups. A number of luncheon parties are being planned, as many of the visitors to the delightful park will spend the entire day at the pageant.

GARDEN PARTY.
Mrs. Vernon Waldron, Mrs. Newton Koser and Mrs. Roy McCabe entertained a large number of the smart set today at a delightfully planned garden party given at the home of Mrs. Vernon Waldron on Hillside avenue, Piedmont. In the beautiful, restful garden were placed Japanese umbrellas and tea tables, and scattered here and there were rare oriental rugs which added to the attractive effect of the scene. In the house where the party was served flowers in profusion were used in decoration. The hostesses were assisted in receiving by a group of friends, among whom were: Mrs. James Allen, Mrs. Frederick Al-Hathaway, Mrs. Henry Nichols, Mrs. Wickham Hav-Mrs. Thomas Potter, Mrs. Ernest McCormick, Mrs. William Edde, Mrs. Charles Par-Mrs. Irving Lund, Mrs. Hubert Borg, Mrs. Charles Trip, Mrs. Dennis Searies, Mrs. Henry Rosen, Mrs. Frederick Field, Mrs. Marion Ever-Miss Chrissie Taft, Mrs. Varina Em-Miss Carrie Nicholson, Mrs. George Rodolph, Mrs. Charles R-Mrs. Edward Engle, Mrs. William Edde, Mrs. Charles Par-Mrs. Irving Lund, Mrs. Hubert Borg, Mrs. Charles Trip, Mrs. Dennis Searies, Mrs. Henry Rosen, Mrs. Frederick Field, Mrs. Marion Ever-Miss Chrissie Taft, Mrs. Varina Em-Miss Carrie Nicholson.

THIMBLE BEE.
Miss Lorraine Jordan will entertain at an informal sewing bee at her home in Alameda next Friday afternoon in honor of Miss Constance Van Brunt and Miss Gisela Easler, who will leave in a week or so for Santa Barbara, where they will attend Miss Gamble's fashionable finishing school. Miss Jordan's guest list includes: Miss Haslett, Isabelle Nason, Miss Van Brunt, Dorothy Soule, Misses Dorothy Wa-Janet Painter, Anna Dodge, Amy Whitney, Helen Sargent, Gladys Westbrool, Beatrice Cummings, Katherine Egbert.

Cultivate Your Charms and Beautify Your Gifts

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

(Copyright: 1911: By Lillian Russell.)

BELIEVE that the endowment of beauty which is given to every woman should be nurtured and propagated, built upon and cultivated, civilized and embellished as faithfully as the Puritans cultivated this beautiful land of ours. The savage Indian tribes which formerly inhabited and owned this part of the globe are perfect examples for us of the uselessness of gifts, talents or endowments of whatsoever nature if they are uncultivated.

They were like children in that they possessed instinct instead of reason. They had fields to cultivate, wood and stone abounded, and everything necessary to establish and beautify cities was at their command; but they did not realize their gifts, nor did they avail themselves of their privileges.

The wild instinct of killing and not cultivating has been and always will be the limitation of the savage; and as a consequence they lost the land, their heritage and became the nondescripts of today. Theirs is a case illustrative of the survival of the fittest. Had reason come to their rescue we probably should not be the possessors of this wonderful land, with its magnificent opportunities.

But we are here, and one of our opportunities is to profit by the mistake of the Indian. The principle used in the development of a city is a lesson to us all. The city is drained and cleansed, building begins, embellishment is impelled and beauty is the result; so we who are progressive should take examples from the primitive Indian's neglect and beautify our bodily cities—mind and body—thus keeping ourselves beautiful and cultivated—a barrier against all invaders. Diseases of mind and body are invaders.

As our people were the force that has nearly exterminated the useless Indian, who knew not how to take advantage of his glorious opportunities and infinite gifts—who could not, in the language of Pope—

Learn from the birds what food the thickets yield.
Learn from the beasts the physic of the field.
Thy arts of building from the bee receive.
Learn of the mole to plow, the worm to weave.
Learn of the little nautilus to sail.
Spread the thin oar and catch the driving gale.

Let your civilized thoughts lead you to make the most of your gifts of mind—the motor power that moves us all.

Reason tells us to begin where instinct leaves off, and to assert our personality.

We are all building for the future, and the coming generations will be the more beautiful and wise in proportion to the present appreciation of ourselves and the realization of our gifts. No one dare blame a man or woman for the desire to be pleasing to the eye. Therefore, let the first impression of your personality be complete—a well-dressed, well-groomed one.

The personal appearance is the expression of the mind, or should be. As we wish to be, we are. If we are careless in the thought of our appearance to others, we reflect that state of mind in our dress and face. So build your character and cultivate your minds, that you will have done your share, which share exists in making the world more beautiful.

Remember, gifts of beauty may be yours, but cultivation is necessary if you would keep your charms.

MRS. W. P. S.—The liquid olive soap is not the same as the green soap, but if you cannot obtain the green soap, the other will serve the purpose nearly as well.

BROWN EYES.—A splendid astrigent for large pores is as follows: An ounce of eau de cologne, one-half ounce of tincture of benzoin, one ounce of peroxide of hydrogen, one teaspoon of pure borax and enough rose water to make a pint. Apply after washing. Care must be taken not to get it on the hair or eyebrows, as it is a bleaching agent as well as an astrigent.

Gentle massage with warm cocoa butter, round and upward along the glands, will enlarge the breasts. Any hard pressure tends to flatten them, so if you wear forms of any kind, they should be made as light as possible; a framework of wire or whalebone that will not press anywhere is best.

The following exercise is beneficial to develop the bust. Double your fists as tightly as you can, bringing them together in front with your arms raised so as to be horizontal. While keeping your arms on a level with your shoulders, slowly separate your fists as widely as possible.

I D.—I should advise you to use the cleansing cucumber cream published in THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE of September 12. Rub this well into the skin with the tips of the fingers and then rub off with a piece of sterilized gauze or cheesecloth. This will cleanse the skin thoroughly. I should then advise you to use the following INSTRUCTIONS FOR DEEP BREATHING.—The first thing in the morning and the last thing at night, when you are clad only in your night dress, open your window, and, standing straight, with your back against the wall, fill your lungs, breathing through your nostrils, with the mouth closed, until your lungs are able to hold no more. Retain breath while you count four. Expel it through the nose, counting seven. Do this five times.

Next stand upright and turn out the toes so that the heels touch. Place your hands on your hips, the thumbs back in the soft part of the back on either side of the spinal column. Nod, draw in a deep breath and force the air down so that you feel the air pressed out through the expansion of the lower part of the lungs. Hold the breath while counting four, expel while you count seven. Practice this movement six times.

Next stand upright, head up, shoulders thrown back, arms hanging at the sides. Now, gradually raise the arms until they are high above the head. While you are performing this movement take in a deep breath through the nostrils until the lungs can hold no more. Retain the breath while counting four, then gradually lower the arms and at the same time expel the breath and count seven. Repeat this six times.

Practice deep breathing constantly. Take deep inhalations with the mouth closed, retain the breath a few seconds and exhale through the nostrils. Lay your hand on the abdomen when you take one of these deep breaths and you will see the flattening effects upon the stomach.

skin food. You must be sure that the ingredients are fresh and of the best and purest quality, and that your druggist weighs them carefully.

Melt together in a water bath one-half ounce of white wax, one-half ounce of spermaceti, one ounce of lanolin, two ounces of sweet almond oil, and one ounce of coconut oil. Take off the fire and beat until cold, adding, little by little, two ounces of orange flower water, to which five drops of tincture of benzoin have been added. Be sure to beat ingredients constantly until, quite cold, beating is the secret of fine cream.

The above methods will keep the skin clean and prevent the face from changing, which is so disagreeable, especially on an ocean voyage.

LAD STEALS RIDE ON JOURNEY TO FATHER

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 20.—Badly burned by cinders and nearly exhausted, 7-year-old Albert Kettler was taken from the "blind baggage" of a passenger train here yesterday after tramping all the way from St. Louis. He came in on a fast train from which he once had been thrown off, but which he boarded again as the train pulled out of the station. The child left his mother in St. Louis to come here to his father, from whom he was separated when his parents were divorced. After the child was revived somewhat at the station he demanded that he be taken to his father. He declared he had come to stay.

yesterday in honor of Miss Mildred Foster, a prospective bride, was exquisitely appointed, baskets of Cecil Bruner roses and pink tulle being used in profusion, place cards and dainty favors adding to the table decorations. Covers were laid for twenty-seven guests, and the list includes the Misses Mildred Foster, Edith Foster, Rita Burke, May Bissell, Edith White, Helen White, Emmy Lemcke, Edith Cramer, Ruth Tisdale, Dorothy Tisdale, Hazel Holt, Ruth Holt, Ethel Plummer, Ione Connor, Mildred Kelley, Lorraine Jordan, Helen Sargent, Elizabeth Latham, Edna Hickok, Marjorie Emmons, Amy Swaine, Marie Tyson, Louis Randolph Weir, Harry Welhe, William Bacon, Joseph McIlroy.

TO HAVE NEW COURTHOUSE.

ALTURAS, Sept. 30.—The Modoc county board of supervisors have determined suddenly to raise a fund to build a modern stone courthouse in this city. After the board had fixed the tax rate at $1.25 the members were induced by Attorney E. C. Bonner to rescind their action and add 40 cents to the rate to create a county house fund. Action was taken at this time in order to force Thomas B. Walker and other big timber land owners to pay part of the costs, as their timber lands now are at their highest output.

GIRLS' AEGIS SHOW TO BE HELD ON OCTOBER 6

The semi-annual Girls' Aegis show of the Oakland High School will be presented October 6 at the High School gym, the object being to raise money for the Girls' Aegis, their edition of the school paper.

The program has been arranged by Miss Marion Hook, the editor of the Girls' Aegis, and will include several vaudeville stunts. Included in the program will be "The Wizards of Electricity," "See-Saw Chorus," and Pierrot Pierrette. A farce will also be put on under the supervision of the O. H. S. Dramatic Society. Among the amateur thespians will be the Misses Mildred Manual, Katherine Bangs, Gertrude Bangs, Genevieve Hough, Marjory Merritt, Rachel Jonning and Allison Stone, and John Howard, Elery Stone, Archie MacDuff, Ed Bromson, Wallace Ransome and Joan Witter.

The show is under the management of Harold Shadsworth, editor-in-chief of the Aegis.

BUSHROD PARK GIRLS PLAN HIKE IN HILLS

Following the beaten paths that lead to the picturesque hills of Alameda county, a company of twenty-five girls of Bushrod Park playground will make a pilgrimage next Saturday, escorted by Miss Hazel Dell, who is substituting for Miss Johanna Johnson, who is at present enjoying her vacation in Milwaukee. Mrs. Johnson will return November 1.

ACCUSED OF FORGERY.

RENO, Sept. 20.—Walter McAvoy, a recent arrival from San Francisco, is in the city jail here charged with forgery. McAvoy is a cartoonist and engraver and his arrest followed the passing of a check alleged to have been forged upon a local engraving company. McCarthy and Ritchie Meet Tonight; Beavers Increase Lead in Race for Flag

RIVAL LIGHTWEIGHTS IN FINE FETTLE FOR TONIGHT

Rival Boxers Both Confident and Fast
Bout Is Promised; Hickey and Hughes Ready for Fray

The tickets for the Wheelmen's Club boxing show this evening which were placed on sale Monday are going like wildfire and all indications point to a record house. Since Willie Ritchie knocked out Tommy McFarland in four rounds at Coalinga Saturday night the fans have about come to the conclusion that Willie is some pumpkins and has a considerable wallop concealed about his person. Any boxer who can knock out the McFarland party in four rounds must be SOME artist, as Ad Wolgast, lightweight champion of the world, could not get better than a draw with McFarland in ten rounds. Ritchie, plumb full of confidence, is down to the hard grind of training again and expects to register another knockout when he tangles with the "Fighting Harp."

Willie always asserted that he had the punch, but was unfortunate in never finding an opening for it, but now that he has placed McFarland in the sleeper class he expects to rock 'em all to slumberland as fast as they come up. No one ever doubted Ritchie's ability as a boxer. He is one of the shiftest boys ever developed in San Francisco, but until the McFarland contest he was never accused of having a ten second slam.

McCarthy has been tearing into his training across the bay and promises to take some of the conceit out of the Ritchie party. Johnny Bates does not know much about anything else except the boxing game and he realizes that he will have to dispose of Ritchie to gather any kake in the future. Unless he gets by in good shape it will be back to the hard graft for little Johnny, and if there is one thing the Harp hates more than anything else, it is real work. It should be a rattling good scrap and considering that the fans have not had a real mill on this side of the bay for a couple of months, they will surely flock to Piedmont pavilion tomorrow night. McCarthy and Ritchie have met on two previous occasions, both contests resulting in draws, but with ten rounds in which to settle their differences tomorrow evening, there should be a decisive result.

The backers of Red Hughes, who meets Henry Hickey in one of the six round special events, are taking a good deal of their man is going to do the Oakland favorite, but the Hickey people are keeping quiet and watching their boy round into good condition. The little Oakland is fit as the proverbial fiddle, and if he does not bring home the bacon it will be no fault of his. Hickey is an ambitious kid with no bad habits and he bids fair to become a star in his class. If he disposes of Hughes tomorrow evening he will be matched with Eddie Campi for the October date so it is up to "Little Henry" to waste in and grab the long-end of the purse tomorrow.

The Walter Scott-Willie Cappelle match, which will also be over the six-round route, is another tit-bit on the card and unless something unexpected happens the question of supremacy should be settled in less than the scheduled six rounds.

FORMER OLYMPIAN SWIMS FAST BAR AT TILLAMOOK

TILLAMOOK, Ore., Sept. 20.—Before 1000 swimming enthusiasts, Arthur "Tums" Cavill, formerly of San Francisco and widely known as the Australian expert who was the first to swim the Golden Gate, swam the wild Tillamook bar, said to be the roughest on the United States coast, making the journey between 2:30 and 3:15 in the afternoon.

The sea was high and Cavill's hands and feet were both tired. The distance was a little more than a mile.

Judges of the swim were Webster Holmes, mayor of Tillamook, and M. G. O'Donnell of Bayoccan.

My One Treatment Cures FOR WEAK, DISEASED MEN CURE TO STAY CURED

BOSTON PROMOTER PLANS BOUTS OF BANTAMS

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—Not to be outdone by Hugh McIntosh, in Australia, or the promoters in New Orleans, the Armory Athletic club of Boston is planning the staging of an elimination contest for the bantam pugilists this winter. Edith Murray, matchmaker of the Boston club, already has the signatures of most of the little fellows and expects to start things in a few weeks.

Harry Forbes, Al Delmont, Jimmy Walsh, Young O'Leary, Frankie Burns, "Boy" Filsell and a number of other lesser lights in this class are expected to compete, with the idea that the winner will be matched with Johnny Coulton for the championship.

Coulton has declared his willingness to take on the winner in defense of his title and he would make the trip to Boston soon to help in the arrangements of the affair. Harry Forbes will go into active training immediately, as it is expected he will have the opening battle.

Walsh has been mentioned as Forbes' opponent. Forbes has a match in sight at the Fairmont athletic club in New York in the near future, and also is preparing to start for England, where he will meet "Digger" Stanley some time in November.

HARD HITTING AT END WINS CLOSE GAME FOR PORTLAND

Pernoll Blows Up in Eleventh Inning and Martinoni and Gregory Falter in Twelfth

PORTLAND, Sept. 20.—Koestner, Portland flinger, ran into another extra inning game yesterday, but he came out with colors flying, Portland defeating the Oaks, 2 to 1, by hard hitting in the twelfth. Opposing Koestner on the heights at the opening of hostilities was Pernoll, who is usually very effective against McCredie's men. In the eleventh, though, he gave way to Martinoni.

The bushers' career during the afternoon was not marked by signal success, for when Roger Peckinpaugh perpetrated a double in the 12th, Wolverton gave the alarm and Martinoni was chased and Gregory, the choice heaver of Oakland, mounted the rostrum. Even Gregory could not keep the locals from winning, as Kuhn lamed the flinger to deep center and Peckinpaugh slid over the pan with the final run.

OAKLAND FIRST TO SCORE. Cutshaw had been disposed of when Wares hit hard to left. It would have been an easy out had not Chadbourne raced in the wrong direction after the pill. In the meantime Wares was racing madly for second and he got there safely. Koestner's work in fielding a bunt by Mitze bore a yellow and green tint and Mitze was safe at first. Pernoll bunted to short, and Peckinpaugh overran the ball, losing the opportunity to flag Wares at the plate. Peckinpaugh relieved the pill and flung Pernoll out at first. Wares had tallied, however. Hoffman flew out to Peckinpaugh and the side was retired.

In the Beavers' half of the 11th it looked bad when two were out. Then Rapps clouted to right for two bases, and tied it up on Ryan's double.

With Ryan's swat, Wolverton chased Pernoll and sent in Martinoni. Koestner was effective, easily retiring Krueger.

Two Oaks were out in their half of the 12th when Zacher hit for a fly to Krueger was the best thing Wolverton could deliver.

BEAVERS WIN IN TWELFTH. In the 12th the Beavers busted up the melees. Sheehan started with a hard drive, but it was ably captured by Peckinpaugh. Peckinpaugh laced a high one against the leftfield fence for two bases. Kuhn got a head on one of Gregory's, but he was safe at first. Peckinpaugh had to sprint to get over the dish, but he made it, and the crowd went wild with joy.

DIAMOND GOSSIP

There wasn't much bursting of bombs or fireworks over at the meeting of the Coast League directors last night at the St. Francis Hotel.

Happy Hogan, with visions of the pennant, hastened home and so did his boss, Ed Walter, while Judge W. W. McCredie refused to leave his fireside in the far north.

Henry Berry, regaled in a new lid and a fancy vest, with Frank Ish, Cal Ewing, Ed Walter and Charley Graham, along with the secretary of the league, made up those that were present.

One resolution of importance was adopted, that of the Coast League to remain in the same class as present.

In other words, the Coast League does not desire a higher rating, but does not want to be classed lower than any other minor league. The talk of the American Association and Eastern League getting a higher classification than class A, was discussed and it was decided that the Coast League would not stand for the move. The Coast League will insist on remaining on even footing with the other class A organizations.

A couple of changes were also made to the Coast League rules. It was decided by vote that a club has a right to recall a waiver after it had been asked on a player. Previously a club had to deliver a player once a waiver had been asked. It was decided to suspend that rule, which prevented a club from using a player if he was not in the State before September 15, which rule was adopted to do away with using big league players according to the Coast League. Now a player can be used any time in the year.

Official action was taken on the manner in which the big brushes take away the minors' best players. This important question was laid on the table to be taken up when the National Association holds its big meeting at San Antonio.

The feeling of the directors couldn't be had on the question, but it looks as if the Coast League will do some mighty tough old fighting when that time comes for a fair deal, something they are not getting now from the National Commission.

Happy Hogan and his near-leaders sat in one of the boxes and watched the game and it was a board from the north. When the boy put up a figure 1 in the eleventh inning for the Oaks he shouldered the ball and his throwing hand. Beavers one, too, then they all didn't smile.

Bud Pernoll pitched excellent ball up north until the eleventh inning, and then the hard luck pitcher on the mound. He was hit by a line drive from the outfield a foot inside the line. Buddy Ryan, right bender, was hit in the hole when Rapps combed a double to the outfield a foot inside the line. Buddy Ryan, right bender, was hit in the hole when Rapps combed a double to the outfield a foot inside the line.

Harry McCardie pitched against Howard to third base in the eighth inning and put his hand between the bag and Howard's foot with the result that he was badly caught on the leg and his throwing hand. It will keep him out of the game for some time to come, which means that another cripple is added to Ewing's hospital.

Heitmuller is a regular bear cat these days, and his hitting is the surprise of the league. Twice he hammered the pellet out of four trips to the bat, on the fifth time he stole a double from Tennant by making a wonderful backhanded catch of Tanglefoot's drive to right.

Weaver made a couple of remarkable catches from Howard's bat. Then he spoiled all his good work by making a wild heave to first base.

Those ribald San Francisco fans who see nothing good in that sterling little player, Ernie Mohler, boomed him because he made a couple of bobbles. Both the chances were hard ones and he did well to knock them down.

Palmer, the Angel pitching recruit, comes from the Aurora team of the Wisconsin-Illinois League. He is a lightly-built chap, but has plenty of stuff on the ball and will undoubtedly make a good man for the 1912 Bertrights.

Manager Harry Wolverton placed Elmer Zacher at first base in the northern game and the score shows that the ex-Giant played a nifty game at the initial spot.

Johnson, the Seals' new outfielder, is by far the best of the three that Ewing signed recently. Smith, who was canned, was far too slow for this league, while Holland is but a fair ball player.

FOOTBALL AT VALLEJO. VALLEJO, Sept. 20.—The first real football game of the season will be played here Saturday afternoon, when the Telegraph, a local club, will meet the eleven from the cruiser Maryland, now at Mare Island.

WEBSTER VS. COUTURE. SACRAMENTO, Sept. 20.—Danny Webster of Los Angeles has been matched to fight Freddie Couture 20 rounds here at the Buffalo Athletic club here on the evening of September 28.

JEFF ON WAY HOME. SEWARD, Alaska, Sept. 20.—James J. Jeffries and his brother Jack reached Kenai lake at noon yesterday on their return to civilization. They are expected to reach Seward tonight, where they will sail south on the steamer Northwestern, Saturday, to reach the side of their mother, who is seriously ill in Los Angeles.

HEARST'S RECIPROCITY
VIEWS ARE SUPPORTED

English International Authorities Declare
It Childish of Canada to Refuse
Benefits of Treaty

LONDON, Sept. 20.—Conflicting opinions among English public men over W. R. Hearst's statement in the Weekly Budget in reply to attacks made upon him for his advocacy of Canadian reciprocity continue to reflect the political bias of men who discuss it. For instance, Major General Sir Alfred Turner, one of Britain's foremost authorities on international affairs, supports Hearst's contention at every point and condemns the "Jingoes" who are trying to "raise the bogey of annexation" in the hope of obscuring the real issue.

Sir Gilbert Parker, who since his advent in London society and British politics has become a Tory even among Tories, attacks Hearst's statement, taking much of the same viewpoint as the London Evening Times, which declared yesterday that the mere fact that Hearst favored reciprocity was sufficient reason why Canadians should oppose it.

HEARST VIEWS UPHOLD.

Sir Alfred Turner, who has traveled all over Canada and is familiar with conditions throughout the British empire and the United States, said: "England has now learned to rule her colonies in the best possible manner by giving them a free hand. It is certainly not for Rudyard Kipling or others of his views to dictate to Canada what she shall do. She is no longer a child, but a very mature nation."

"Mr. Hearst alludes to the Conservatives in Canada, who naturally consider, like many Conservatives in this country, that any change or innovation is to be deprecated. If the tide of events in this world were governed by worthy people of this manner of thought the world would be practically without progress. The vast majority of people in this country, as far as they know anything about it, would strongly approve of the treaty. I believe I am cordially agreed with all Mr. Hearst says in his letter."

SIR GILBERT ANTAGONISTIC.

Sir Gilbert Parker, who is resting at Westgate-on-the-Sea, says: "By his own showing, Mr. Hearst has a big, warm, generous nature. So true a philanthropist is he that he is deeply concerned lest between the United States and Canada there would be more advantage to the latter than to the former. It would be little short of insanity for Canadians to fail to grasp the opportunity offered."

"As for the bogey of annexation which is held up, especially by 'Jingoes' in this country, the idea is too absurd to contemplate. The days of annexation of a state like Canada against the will of the people—though she has a population of 9,000,000, compared with the 90,000,000 of America, are long past and the idea is perfectly untenable."

AGREES WITH MR. HEARST.

"I entirely agree with Mr. Hearst that the proposed treaty is the first really important step that has ever been taken to bring about a better understanding between the English-speaking nations. I firmly believe Americans are actuated now by the highest possible motives for the good of civilization and in the cause of peace."

"It would be childish of Canada to refuse the enormous benefits that reciprocity with the United States would confer upon her and which do not invest the smallest danger to herself."

"At the same time these benefits will tend to increase the first really important step that has ever been taken to bring about a better understanding between two countries and prevent such friction in the present and future as has occurred from time to time in the far past."

"If Canada considers it to her advantage, as doubtless she does, Canada, with 9,000,000 people, should not miss the immense benefit which 90,000,000 people are anxious to bestow upon her. Mr. Hearst is a very brilliant man, but I did not know before that he was a philanthropist and so pronounced a cosmopolitan. I thought he was a real downright, hard-headed, honorable, selfish American."

MERELY QUESTIONS LOGIC.

"But is Hearst a logician as well as a humorist and a cosmopolitan? He says if Canada misses this chance of having 90,000,000 people pour their bounty upon her, the United States will never humble itself by renewing the overtures. Hearst is a humorist."

"I fancy I know the United States as well as Hearst knows Canada and the American people as well as Hearst knows the Canadians, and I think the American people will do things for their own advantage."

SUGAR AS AVIATOR;
SEEKS ALTITUDE RECORD

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—According to Claus Spreckels, whose Federal Sugar Refining Company, located at Yonkers, is the biggest and most aggressive competitor of the sugar trust, the present high price of sugar will probably go still higher before it comes down again.

"The trust is not responsible for the greatly increased cost of sugar," he said. "As a matter of fact, we are selling all we can make at half a cent a pound higher than the price that is being quoted by the sugar trust."

"The cause of the present high prices is mainly the certainty of a shortage of more than a million tons in the sugar beet crop of Europe. European refiners are scouring the world in search of raw sugar. Last year's cane crop in Cuba was short about 350,000 tons. This has accelerated the upward movement of prices for refined sugar. The rise in price has been going on since the middle of July. The movement upward will probably continue for a few weeks longer, or until this year's bountiful beet harvest of the west begins to be marketed."

DISFIGURED IN GLASS "SCRAP," MARSHALLTOWN, Ia., Sept. 20.—H. Willard of Seattle, a freshman at Grinnell college, Marinette, is disfigured for life. It is said, following the annual glass scrap, the freshman took refuge in a barn. The upper classmen decided to smoke them out with bromides. Willard was burned so badly on the head that his hair came out and his face was scarred badly.

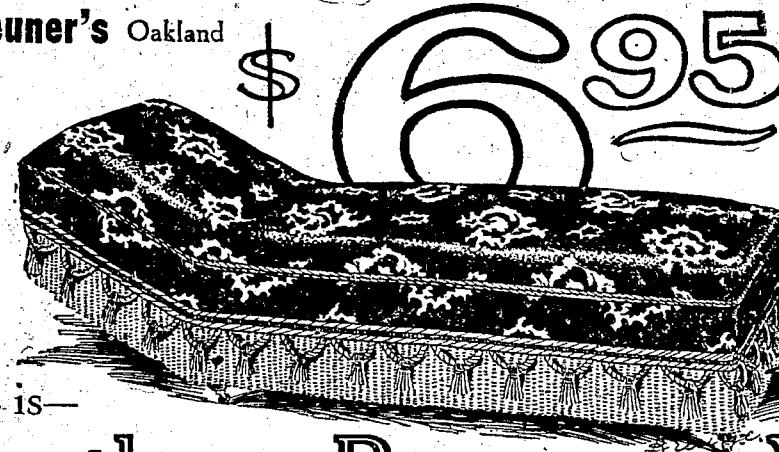

INDIANS IN REVOLT.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 20.—The Indians living in and about Oxtlalco, state of Campeche, rose in revolt yesterday, according to a dispatch received here last night. They have sacked a number of small farms.

Cuts and bruises may be healed in about one-third the time required by the usual treatment by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. It is an antiseptic and causes such injuries to heal without maturation. This liniment also relieves soreness of the muscles and rheumatic pains. For sale by Osgood Bros' Drug Stores.

JOY RIDER MISSING.

HARTWELL, Sept. 20.—Following a joy ride in A. Frandsen's automobile which he borrowed without the consent of the owner, Night Operator John Cole of the Western Pacific company at this place, has disappeared. He left the automobile several miles from the place of starting and it is a wreck. It is thought that Cole boarded a train for Chicago. He left in such a hurry that he did not take any of his clothes or belongings, nor did he call for or wait for his money.

NEW KINK IN MATRIMONY.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—Edwin R. Warner and Stella M. Levinson put a new kink in the marriage contract yesterday when they announced that they were going to be married, but that it would be so arranged between them that each would handle his or her own property without interference from the other. A signed agreement was filed by the couple yesterday, setting forth all the clauses of their new idea.
